Easing of Curbs on Auto Purchases Predicted

Officials Consider Action

Will Depend On Sales Volume

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Federal Reserve board officials today predicted a new cut in credit curbs if the deflationary trend continues.

Officers of the Federal Reserve board disclosed that a further decline in new and used car sales will mean additional relaxations in consumer credit controls on automobiles, as one step toward stabilization.

The Federal Reserve board officials noted the decline in auto prices, a trend quite marked in recent weeks and blamed in part on a seasonal drop in new car sales but mainly on an unexpected slump in used car purchases.

The officials declined to comment directly on how much auto credit controls might be relaxed and cautioned that the action "may be several weeks away." But they admitted that extension of the installment payment period from 21 to 24 months and/or a drop in the required down payment from one-third to 30 or 25 per cent, "would be a reasonable guess."

STRONGER LAW

Other developments in Congress were:

RENTS — Housing Expediter Tighe Woods declared today that the new rent control act which goes into effect at midnight tonight represents a "considerable strengthening" of the expiring law.

REDS — A co-author of the Mundt-Nixon communist control bill, Rep. Nixon swung his support today behind a new measure which would bar party members from jobs with the government or in defense work.

OLEO—The battle over repeal of federal taxes on oleomargarine will be resumed in the House today after a one-year "breather."

LABOR—Administration supporters today forecast House action on the Taft-Hartley repeal bill before the Easter recess.

Sees Living Cost Drop

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — A decline of about 10 per cent in the cost of living can be expected in the coming year "barring wars and weather," says the U. S. commissioner of labor statistics.

But there is little reason to anticipate a greater decrease, Dr. Ewan Clague said.

Food prices should continue downward unless buoyed up by the international situation or climatic conditions, he said.

Cautioning that the public should not expect too much in the way of adjustment, Dr. Clague said consumer prices neither rise as rapidly nor fall as far as wholesale prices.

Israel Foe Sets Up Syrian Government

AMMAN — (INS) — Reports from Damascus said today that Faris El-Khoury, Syrian "edler statesman" and foe of Israel has formed a cabinet which is functioning under army control.

Syrian troops, led by army commander Col. Husni Zaim, yesterday overthrew the government in a bloodless coup and imposed martial law.

Washington's Cherry Trees In Blossom

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The capital's famed cherry blossoms, supercharged with hormones for the first time, hit their peak today.

The hormone treatment, in the form of an inexpensive spray, is designed to keep the blooms at their shiny best through next week end's cherry blossom festival.

Irving C. Root, parks superintendent, said the blossoms started opening by the thousands last Sunday and normally would fall off within five days.

Red Cross Extends Campaign

Although, technically, the 1949 annual Red Cross campaign closes today, more than $4,000 short of its goal, the drive will continue until the goal of $48,835 is reached, Glenn L. Bierly, campaign chairman, said today.

Today's receipts totaled $44,539.15, including $6,370.56 from Shelby. There will be no more returns from Shelby volunteers until tomorrow, headquarters said today.

In spite of the shortage in campaign funds, Bierly said today that campaign workers are sure of meeting their goal and feel that there is a good chance of going over the top when all the returns are in.

"The outlook is very encouraging," he said. "It's merely a matter of mopping up the township division and a few final industries. We hope within another week, that all the returns will be in and we will have met our goal.

"However, we will continue until we have made our quota," he declared.

The Red Cross headquarters at the A. B. Grafton garage, 99 Park avenue west, will be closed tomorrow. After that, all returns will be made to the Red Cross chapter house, 309 Park avenue west.

Senate OK's Defenbacher

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The confirmation Stat Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher didn't need has been granted by the Senate —nine weeks late. The vote was 30 to 0.

It came on a surprise motion by Sen. William M. Boyd (D-Cuyahoga) to reconsider the vote by which the Senate refused confirmation last Jan. 17. Boyd was one of four Democrats opposing Gov. Frank J. Lausche's appointment of Defenbacher—a Republican—to his cabinet.

A split in Democrat ranks and refusal of Republicans to help the majority party resulted in a vote of 14 yes to 10 no, with 17 affirmative votes needed to confirm.

Sen. Sawicki moved to postpone the vote on Jan. 24. There the matter rested until Boyd stepped in. He did so after Republicans kept up a drum-fire of criticism over failure of the administration to present the two-year state budget bill as early as in previous sessions. It now is expected Monday.

Defenbacher remained in office despite lack of confirmation.

Motorists Must Show 1949 Tags

Motorists must display 1949 license tags after midnight tonight or face arrest, state highway patrolmen said today. There will be no extension for the old tags.

Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler has warned motorists he can fine them up to $25 for failure to register their autos for 1949

Lines were forming at the automobile licensing agency at 56 North Mulberry street this morning in the rush to get new plates before the deadline.

See Decision On Permit Freezing

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The State Liquor board may decide today whether to freeze all retail liquor permits.

A two-hour public hearing was held yesterday in which 12 of the 14 witnesses opposed the regulation r[illegible]sal.

Th[illegible]posal would be, in effect, [illegible]tinuation of a 60-day administrative freeze that ended last Monday.

SPAN COLLAPSES

HINTON, W. Va—(UP)—Several men were believed seriously injured or possibly dead today in the collapse of one span of the new bridge being built across Bluestone river near here.

SCUFFLE OVER CHILD—When Robert Olson, 32, brought his daughter, Susan, 6, into a Chicago court (left), his estranged wife, Betty, 26, snatched the tearful child away and ran into a corridor (right). Olson gave chase and retrieved the child. The judge asked the couple to try to arrange a reconciliation within 30 days. Meanwhile, the father will have custody of Susan.

New Milk Cut Looms

City Dairies Expected To Follow Cleveland

Another drop in milk prices in Mansfield loomed today on the heels of one-cent declines in Cleveland and other northern Ohio cities and villages.

Mansfield dairymen, who usually follow the Cleveland price trend, said today they were not ready to announce a price drop, here but indicated one was in the making.

The Lofland dairy which serves Plymouth and Shiloh today announced a one-cent cut, effective immediately: The new price is 18 cents.

The new Cleveland price is 18 cents a quart home delivered and 17 cents in stores. In Mansfield, milk sells for 19 cents a quart delivered or in stores.

Cleveland dealers said the cut was made in anticipation of the removal of floor prices paid the farmer for milk.

The actual cut to farmers when the floor is removed will not be known until after April 8. If the cut amounts to more than the 50 cents per hundred now indicated, housewives can look forward to a further drop in milk prices, dealers said.

Fire Damages Warerooms

Major damage to two storerooms at the Balkan grocery, 279 North Main street, resulted early today from a fire presumably started from a gas hot plate at the rear of the building.

Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations answered a call to the gorcery at 12:35 a. m. and battled the blaze for two hours to keep flames from spreading to the grocery proper. Firemen said only discarded papers and boxes were destroyed by the fire.

Smoke damaged fresh vegetables and fruits kept in the front room of the grocery.

At 2:15 p. m. yesterday, No. 2 station firemen were called to Lenox avenue to stand by while serveral lots in the vicinity burned off.

Faces Death, Asks How to Spend Money

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — Death in 12 months—and $10,000 to spend before it comes . . .

What would you do?

An Oklahoma City woman—a middle-aged widow—doesn't know. But she is asking, in all sincerity, for advice.

Roared In, Creeps Out

March Lion Leaves Mansfield Quietly

The March lion that entered Mansfield with snow and high winds was leaving the city today in a slightly gentler mood after a display of violence that woke Mansfielders from their sleep early this morning. The early morning thunderstorm was marked by sharp flashes of lightning and loud claps of thunder.

After a stormy entrance March 1, the lion turned into a lamb for a few balmy days. However, his exit tonight is expected to be marked by cloudy and colder weather with rain or snow flurries near Lake Erie.

The last day of March presented a sharp contrast to the month's wintry beginning. At noon on March 1, Mansfield temperatures stood at 15 above and more than an inch of snow covered the ground.

Today Mother Nature got ahead of the calendar with misty April showers and temperatures in the 60's at noon.

But the weatherman said tomorrow, April 1, might be a real April fooler.

The official forecast for tomorrow is cloudy and cool with highest temperatures in the 40's. Saturday will be fair with minimum temperatures in the low 30's.

Yesterday there was a wide range in temperatures over the state. While Columbus residents enjoyed summer weather with a high of 76, Toledo shivered in a cold rain when the temperature failed to rise above 46.

Mansfield had a high of 63 yesterday afternoon and a half-inch of rain during the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a. m. today.

Aged Recluse Leaves Hoard

UNION CITY, N. J. — (INS) — Authorities today delved into the possible sources of $500,000 left by a pensioned internal revenue aide, who lived as miserly and died of malnutrition at 75.

Police sought to contact relatives of Joseph Bowling, whose uncut white hair reached almost to his shoulders, who continually pleaded poverty when asked to pay for his $1.50 — a-night hotel room, who never tipped hotel help. These relatives were expected to claim Bowling's:

Thirty-eight $1,000 bills.

Three hundred $100 bills.

Stocks and bonds worth $400,000, plus unclipped coupons.

Former GI Released

Habeas Corpus Writ Approved

COLUMBUS — (AP) — U. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood today ordered Thomas A. Gusik, a former army private convicted of slaying two Italian black marketeers, be released from the U. S. reformatory at Chillicothe.

He granted a writ of habeas corpus requested by a group of attorneys from Cleveland, Gusik's home town. They contended he had been deprived of his constitutional rights in an army court martial.

U. S. District Attorney Loren G. Windom said he would appeal immediately to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Meanwhile, he added, he would recommend that Gusik be released on bond of more than $2,000.

In September Robert M. Urdinarian, an army criminal investigation agent, told the court:

That Gusik was questioned for two days before he was informed of the use to which his words might be put.

That five bullets of different size were removed from the two victims; one came from a pistol, the others from an army rifle.

The Italian guards were carrying rifles the night the two blackt marketeers were slain, Aug. 13, 1947, in Pisa, Italy, while Gusik was not.

Norwalk Youth Dies In Car-Truck Crash

BELLEVUE — Emmett Gray jr., 21, of 11 St. Mary's street, Norwalk, was killed instantly at 5:45 p. m. yesterday, two miles east of Bellevue when his auto collided with a steel truck, driven by Warren Rahm, of Toledo

State high way patrolmen of the Bellevue post said the accident occurred at State Routes 4 and 113. The steel truck, patrolmen said, overturned in the collision, scattering its load across the highway and blocking traffic for three hours.

He Pays, But Indirectly

Fights Against Paying Taxes for War

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Max Sandin, 59, of Cleveland, refuses to pay federal income taxes because of his convictions against war.

Nevertheless, he pays them, if only indirectly.

Since 1943, long before a new cult of pacifists began refusing to pay taxes for "war preparations," Sandin has not paid a single cent of income taxes of his own volition.

Every year, the pacifist sends the Bureau of Internal Revenue a tax form bearing his name and address and a note saying:

"As a conscientious objector, I refuse to pay income taxes — not to help war directly."

Tax collectors continually send him notices, visit him at home and call him into the revenue office for conferences. Once they attached and took his pay for $145 on a painting job.

The collectors also filed a $2,800 tax lien against him, meaning that if he ever owns property, the government will collect its due. Meanwhile, interest and penalties add to the bill.

Tax officials in Cleveland, however, would not comment on Sandin's case or that of any other Clevelander who may be one of about 150 persons throughout the nation belonging to the "Peacemakers," a pacifist organization.

During the First World War, Sandin was sentenced to be shot because he refused to bear arms. He said his objection was political, rather than religious. President Wilson, however, commuted the death sentence.

Diplomats To Confer On Pact

Discuss Soviet Counter-Moves

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Top western power envoys confer on world problems here today to the accompaniment of rumblings from behind the iron curtain which may presage a new Soviet cold war offensive.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson scheduled talks during the day with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and foreign ministers of Belgium, France, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

It was believed that these talks would lay the groundwork for more intensive exchanges after the signing of the North Atlantic treaty here Monday. Acheson said yesterday that he was ready for full discussion of all problems relating to world peace with envoys coming here for the pact-signing ceremoney.

U. S. officials indicated the talks might also deal with plans for meeting an expected Soviet counter-offensive. The State department is scrutinizing recent Soviet moves in an effort to determine how far Russia is likely to go to offset the diplomatic defeat which the welding of the pact brought Moscow.

Diplomatic observers expect Soviet strategy to enter a new phase, now that all 12 nations invited have formally indicated their willingness to sign the Atlantic treaty, despite communist pressure.

They believe that this pressure, which led to violence in Italy and Iceland, was the last Soviet effort to cripple the pact before it came into being.

Investigate Raid 'Tip'

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Seventeen witnesses were scheduled to go before the Hamilton county grand jury today in an investigation of a state liquor department inspector's charge that deputy sheriffs had tipped off a state raid on an alleged bookmaking establishment.

The investigation was ordered by Prosecutor Carson Hoy after Frank M. Action, inspector in charge of the department's enforcement division here, accused deputies of tipping off the Sunset club before a scheduled raid.

The accusation was denied by John J. Behle, chief deputy for Sheriff Dan Tehan, who is vacationing in Florida.

Witnesses summoned for the grand jury include Acton and three of his men, Behle and six other men from the sheriff's office, four employes of the Sunset club and two newspaper reporters.

Meanwhile, as the drive against gambling continued here, several of Acton's men set up a vigil at the downtown Variety club when a locked door prevented them from entering an inside room of the establishment.

Two Children Die In Flames

HAMILTON — (INS) — Two children were burned to death today and three adults seriously injured when an explosion and fire gutted the interior of their home in Homewood addition, a Hamilton suburb.

The blast occurred when Mrs. Wymonia McHone, 23, attempted to start a wood fire with kerosene. She and her husband, Russell, 29, were seriously burned.

Dead were seven-year-old Ona Mae and her three-year-old brother, Donald Eugene.

Plane Falls Into Pond, Fear 6 Dead

Hint Secret Cargo Aboard

EDGAR SPRINGS, MO. — (INS) — Army authorities began an inquiry today into the crash of an air force C-47 transport near Edgar Springs, Mo.

Six men were believed to have been aboard the plane, but army officials have not announced the exact number who might have perished in the accident.

The ship landed in a pond on a farm last night.

Leroy Taylor, cafe operator and a member of a searching party which found the wreckage, reported:

"I saw the plane come down. It turned end over end, hit the ground and skidded into the pond."

Bad weather was believed responsible for the crash. The plane, a twin-engined ship, was reported "classified cargo." It was enroute from Patterson Air Force base at Dayton, Ohio, to Tinker Air Force base at Oklahoma City.

An armed gurad from nearby Fort Leonard Wood was set up around the wreckage.

Capt. Ivan Kendal, of Scott Air Base, Ill., believed that at least five men were aboard the C-47 when it crashed last night. He added that "some pickup passengers" may boost the fatality figure. He said the "classified cargo" may be either documents or secret equipment.

The plane's home base was Rapid City, S. D.

Personnel from the Scott air base were en route to the scene but it was not believed they would release additional information.

Snow Hits In Midwest

HAYES CENTER, NEB. — (AP) — Howling winds early today shaped drifts from 23 inches of snow dumped on this southwest Nebraska community by a spring snowstorm.

Winds up to 60 miles an hour swept the area last night cutting visibility to zero and halting traffic. Similar conditions were reported over the other midwest states.

Early today winds of 33 miles an hour with stronger gusts were reported.

The storm, which began moving into the state Monday night, left 15 inches of snow at North Platte and lesser amounts elsewhere. The weather bureau said the storm was making a slow exit and would probably move out of Nebraska before the day was over.

Aircraft Falls On Railroad

F. A. Ferguson Jr. Dead At Willard

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Floyd A. Ferguson jr., 29, of 174 Vennum avenue, died of a fractured skull last night when his light aircraft crashed on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad track, two miles east of Willard.

It was believed that Ferguson, who had rented the Ercoupe on Tuesday from the Mansfield airport, was returning from a business trip to Cincinnati and Defiance.

Ferguson was manager of the Mansfield office of the Automatic Laundry Distributors, Inc., 233 Park avenue east, and had served in World War II as an air force navigator.

Ferguson was district manager for the company for a five-state area, including Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Kentucky. The local office will be closed all day Saturday so that employes may attend the funeral.

Patrolmen at the Bellevue state highway patrol post, who investigated, estimated time of the crash at 8 p. m. or shortly thereafter. Investigation of the crash was being carried on by the Civil Aeronautics Authority today.

SEE LIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noble, who live near the scene of the crash at Neuman's Corners, said they were returning home when they noticed the lights on the plane and saw it circling Willard airport. The couple said the plane first struck the railroad telephone wires along the tracks, crashed through a fence and stopped directly on top of the New Castle division of the railroad.

The Nobles said they notified the police department, railroad officials and called the ambulance from the Fink funeral home at Willard.

Ferguson was pronounced dead on arrival at Willard Municipal hospital. Huron County Coroner J. D. Bradish ruled death due to a skull fracture.

Kenneth Heisler, manager of the Willard airport, said he heard the plane circling the town and that he tried to make contact with the aircraft, but that he was unsuccessful. Heisler said he put out the lights on the airport and lighted the night flares in an attempt to signal the plane in to a landing.

State highway patrolmen said it was very foggy in the vicinity at the time of the crash. Clayton Tschantz, manager of Richland Aviation, Inc., of Mansfield, said Ferguson was flying on a student license and that he had no experience in night or instrument flying. Tschantz added that weather conditions made instrument flying necessary at 5 p. m. yesterday.

TRAIN DELAYED

Patrolmen said the right wing tip of the light plane evidently struck the ground first, nosing the plane over. The Ambassador Limited from Washington was delayed a half-hour, until B. and O. workmen moved the wreckage.

Mr. Ferguson's body has been removed to the Wolford funeral home here where services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday, conducted by Rev. Charles Stoneburner, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard pastor of the Grace Episcopal church. The body will be placed in the receiving vault at Mansfield cemetery until place of permanent burial is decided.

Born in Chicago, Ferguson came to Mansfield five years ago from Brookville, Pa. He was a graduate of Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., and was a member of the University club, McVey Post, American Legion and the American Veteran's Committee.

Surviving are his wife, Bernice McCurdy Ferguson; a seven-weeks-old daughter, Patricia Jean; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ferguson sr., of Mansfield; one brother, Stanley N., of Buffalo, N. Y., and one sister, Mrs. R. K. Montgomery, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Plan Face-Lifting, Expansion at Public Library

Street-Level Entrance In Design

100,000 Volume Stacks Visioned

By EILEEN DEWHURST

When remodeling of the Mansfield Public Library is completed, the library not only will present a different appearance but will offer room for increased facilities.

The general outline of plans for remodeling has been approved by the library board, and the board hopes to advertise for bids in the near future, according to Miss Lois MacKellar, chief librarian.

Herbert Jones, architect for the project, is now working out the details of heating, plumbing, and built-in features, Miss MacKellar said.

The library has $130.000 from the last two school bond issues for remodeling and new equipment. Eighty thousand dollars were allocated to the library in the first school bond issue and $50.000 in the one passed last fall.

Plans call for a new entrance to the library on the street level. The bank up to the present entrance will be torn down and French windows will be subsituted for the doors at what is now the main entrance. The present pillared entrance will then become a balcony above the street level.

The new entrance will open into a lobby directly off which will be the new children's room. The area of this room will be almost double the size of the present children's room. It will be directly underneath what is now the children's room and the lobby on the main floor. The room will be equipped with its own charging desk so that children's activities will be entirely separate from the adult department.

At the rear of the children's room on the ground floor there will be new quarters for the county extension department.

MORE 'STACKS'

The entire main floor will be used for adult readers. The old children's room will be converted to a popular reading room. The present reading room will be used for a reference room and the small reading room will be a periodical room.

The stack room at the rear of the main floor will be extended to almost double its present size. The rear wall of the main floor will be torn out and the stack room extended by building on both to the rear and to the east side of the building. The addition will be designed so that two levels of stacks can be installed.

Present plans call for using only the main floor for stacks, but in the future the library hopes to install stacks on a mezzanine level also. The two levels would hold nearly 100,000 volumes, Miss MacKellar said.

Back of the enlarged stack room will be built a garage for the Bookmobile. The garage will be parallel to and will open off Library court.

No extensive remodeling is planned for the second floor, but a new stairway will replace the present one from the main to the second floor.

Plans also call for a new roof over the entire building and provision for a public elevator from the ground floor to the main and second floors.

MEET ON SATURDAY

LEXINGTON — Columbian Grange will hold its regular meeting here Saturday evening

Seniors Look at Life

Grads-To-Be Reveal Their Thoughts

By NITA BRANSON

Twelve members of the graduating class at Senior high school talked, yesterday afternoon, about the world they will soon be facing at college, at work, and eventually in homes of their own.

Most of them feel that a strong, personal, religious faith is necessary in this topsy turvy world.

Said Virginia Brownfield: "I don't see how anyone can get along without it A Christian can get by any place and face anything."

Virginia has had a chance to have her faith tested She has a heart ailment that necessitated a rare operation last summer and she is again facing the same emergency. Her religion helped her through, she declares.

Marilyn Brandt said, "I always feel better when I go to church on Sunday. I feel better for the whole week."

Even so, Marilyn doesn't think religion should be just a matter of going to church and Harry Osbun agreed with her.

"I think religion should be a matter of everyday life," he declared. "It should be kindness and all the other decent ways of living."

For Minnie Bradley, religion is a habit.

"My mom taught me to say my prayers every night and I haven't thought much about it."

Ellen Bromfield, whose background is certainly not average and who lives in a family where everything under the sun comes up for discussion, said eagerly, "Yes, I do have a faith, a belief in God."

"Have you ever discussed it with your father?" Her father, of course, is novelist-farmer Louis Bromfield.

"Well, no"

"Do you think he knows about it?"

"Yes I think he does"

For Margie Goodman and Jay Morris religion is a tradition, woven inextricably with their whole life. Worship in their synagogues is an accepted part of living.

"I think you learn a lot by what is taught there," Jay said, "from the Bible and from what your elders say."

★

TOM SWISHER, president of the class, thinks that "faith" should be carried on into marriage and that husband and wife should have faith and belief in each other if they want to stay happily married and make a success of their marriage.

Most of the boys feel that they will not get married until they can support a wife. But Tom is willing to take a chance.

"If you get the right girl, I think it would be all right," he declared.

He cites his brother, Charles as an example. "Charles came back from the war and got married and they're getting along all right even if they do have to be careful about finances. It all depends on the people."

Marriage, sometimes, is an accepted fact with both the boys and girls.

George Middlebrook, who has a musical carreer ahead of him, declared, "I'm going to get my degree before I think about marriage."

"But suppose, George, you meet some girl and fall in love? What then?"

George grinned and answered, "I usually do what I've made up my mind to do. I don't think I'll get married until I'm settled and can support a wife."

Most of the girls agreed that if a wife wanted to work that was all right until the marriage was on a more substantial basis

Martha Shiplet, who expects to continue her music career at Baldwin-Wallace college, thought she could teach music in her own home.

"I don't want to be a music teacher in some school and there is too much competition for being a concert artist. However, I'd like to be either an accompanist or a music teacher. The latter I could do without leaving home."

In the matter of education or special training they were all agreed.

"Today we need more education than our parents did," said Joy Morris. "There is too much competition."

Harry nodded agreement. "Even with education, he said, "we're going to have a tough time of it when we graduate from college. We'll be just a brain. Its going to take education plus initiative and alertness to climb over the mob and get some place."

★

ARE THESE SENIORS afraid of the future, of the world as they will face it after graduation?

Not a bit, but they do realize that they'll have many problems and that the going will not be too easy.

"I'm not afraid, just curious," said Minnie, who expects to go to Ohio State university for training as a medical technician.

Louis Winbigler, who has no dreams of college, is already settled into a job. For him there are no particular problems to face.

"I've learned pattern making in the machine shop here and I'm working part time at the Ohio Brass company. Pattern makers will be among the last to be laid offin times of depression."

Martha was the only one who felt that war might be inevitable.

"I think it just goes on in a circle," she said. "Depressions and wars, then all over again. I think maybe war will never be stopped until the whole world has to unite against a common enemy. I was reading about that the other night. The article said that if we had to fight, a common enemy Mars for instance, peace might come to the earth."

"I don't think we'll have peace until we have something like a United States of the World. Not a United Nations That's got all fouled up," Harry Osbun declared.

Harry said there might even be some good in communism if it were regulated by the people and not just by a small group of dictators.

Ellen shook her head emphatically. "It's no good," she said.

"Suppose war comes along? Will you boys get into it?" The group was asked

"Of course," they said.

"But," Stanley Byers added, "it won't last long. It will be over in a short time and there won't be much left of the world."

Stanley, whose father is Calvin Byers, News-Journal columnist wants to be a farmer.

"There's a big future for the farmer," he had decided. "I'm interested in farming and machines and the two go together."

Although most of them have their colleges picked out, Stanley wasn't sure about his.

They all know pretty well what they want to do the rest of their lives except Margie Goodman. She's still undecided.

I can paint a little and play the piano a little, but I'll have four years at Ann Arbor to make up my mind," she said.

Stanley isn't the only one who has a yen for farming. Ellen is going to Cornell, she thinks, and study agriculture so she can come back to Malabar Farm and work with her father.

Tom wants to enter Columbia under the NROTC program but if not Columbia, then Miami university at Oxford. He will major in physical science. Jay will go to Northwestern then come back to join his father in the jewelry business; George goes to Ashland college to study public school music; Marilyn Brandt to Bliss business school to learn to be a secretary.

Virginia, or Ginger as she is known at school, is planning just now to enter Bowling Green university.

Right now they are making plans enthusiastically but if those plans fail to materialze, well, they'll make the best of it, for just being an American is something to work for and be proud of, they agreed.

Injury Sidelines Gordon For Four

TUCSON, Ariz.—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians, minus the services of Second Baseman Joe Gordon, encountered their "cousins," the Chicago White Sox, today at Tucson.

Gordon, sparkplug of the Tribe for the past two years, was taken out of the lineup yesterday because of strained ligaments in his right forearm which he suffered nearly two weeks ago. He will be out for three or four days.

"I felt a twinge in my elbow after I threw the ball," Joe said. He started at the keystone sack for the next ten games, but he still felt the pain in his arm. X-rays showed that he had strained some ligaments.

WILD SOUTHPAW

Dick Rozek, rookie lefthander, who has considerable trouble finding the plate, was to start on the mound for the Indians today with Bob Lemon to follow.

The world champions opened a barrage of hits yesterday to down the Pale Hose, 8-4, behind the chucking of Mike Garcia and Gene Bearden.

Dale Mitchell, Larry Doby and Johnny Berardino sparked the Indians' attack as they collected seven of the 12 hits off Chicago hurlers Al Gettel, a Cleveland castoff, and Fred Bradley.

Mitchell connected for an inside-the-park homer and a double. It was the young outfielder's fourth home run of the spring season and second this week.

Doby hit two doubles, one in the left field corner and the other in the right field corner, while Berardino rapped three consecutive singles.

Fred Marsh, rookie shortstop, also hit safely twice. He blasted a double and a single in his five times at bat.

CHICAGO RUN LIST

Garcia and Bearden held the Sox in check after the second inning. The Chicagoans managed to get three runs off Garcia in the first two frames. They added the other tally in the sixth off Bearden, who gave up but two hits in the four innings he pitched. Garcia was tagged for seven bingles.

Hank Ruszkowski, the holdout who finally reported to camp with a 48-ounce bat, heavier than the one used by Babe Ruth, went hitless in three times at the plate yesterday, despite his new "cricket" style batting stance and the weighty willow.

★

Outfield Unsettled . . .

TAMPA, FLA. — (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds' 1949 outfield still is unsettled in manager Bucky Walters' mind with the possible exception of centerfield.

Bucky indicated today rookie Lloyd Merriman may be his regular center fielder. The six-foot, 195-pound graduate of the Reds' Columbia farm club has been slugging the ball at such a clip and performing so well afield that Walters said he was "just about sold on him" for the garden spot.

For the other outfield positions, the Redleg manager said he might use left fielder Hank Sauer and right fielder Danny Litwhiler against southpaw pitchers, and Johnny Wyrostek and Frank Baumholtz in those spots when right-handers work.

The Reds, 7-6 losers to the New York Yankees in 11 innings yesterday, were back on their home field today for a tilt with the Washington Senators. Walker Cress and Frank Fanovich were scheduled to handle the Rhinelanders' pitching chores.

★

Phils Meet Cards . . .

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., — (UP) — Making their final Florida appearance of the spring, the Philadelphia Phillies today were scheduled to meet the St. Louis cardinals.

The Phils, who break camp after today's game, scored a 7 to 4 victory over the Washington Senators yesterday. Bill Nicholson, with a two-run homer, and Willei (Puddin' Head) Jones, with three hits, let the Phils at the plate.

The Cardinals dropped a 12-11 decision to the Braves yesterday with Erv Dusak, Howie Pollet, George Munger and Bob Habenicht hurling for the Redbirds.

★

A's Start Trek . . .

LAKE WALES, FLA. — (UP) — The Philadelphia Athletics were scheduled to begin their northern trek home today with an exhibition game against Kansas City of the American association.

Before breaking camp yesterday, the Athletics announced that pitcher Zebulon Eaton had been cut from the squad. He returned to his Buffalo, N. Y., home and will be ordered to report to another club shortly.

★

Buc Streak Ends . . .

PHOENIX, ARIZ. — (UP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates suffered their first setback in 11 games yesterday as the home run bats of Sid Gordon and Johnny Mize led the New York Giants to an 11 to 4 victory over the high-riding Bucs.

Gordon blasted two homers off rookie Bill Werle and Mize whacked a third off Kirby Higbe. Werle, up from San Francisco was belted for six runs and nine hits in four innings, while Higbe allowed five runs and six hits in four.

Clint Hartung went seven innings for the Giants, allowing four runs on 10 hits and two walks. Andy Hansen set the Pirates do in order in the last two frames.

★

Wants New Rule . . .

LAKELAND, FLA. — (AP) — Detroit Tiger manager Red Rolfe is just about ready to plunk for a rule barring extra-inning baseball games.

The Tigers went 12 innings yesterday in Sarasota with the Boston Red Sox, adhered strictly to the script and lost 1 to 0 when Vern (Junior) Stephens clouted a game-wrecking homer with two men out in the third extra frame.

That makes four times this spring Detroit has played overtime in the grapefruit league without winning. The Tigers tied one game.

Blue Lancer Wins To Confuse Scene

BOWIE, Md. — (AP) — The picture of promising 3-year-olds became more confused yesterday when Daniel Hess' Blue Lancer, a long shot, outlasted eight others, including the Kentucky Derby eligible Papa Luke, to take the $10,000 added Farrell handicap at Bowie.

Jockey Al Schmidl brought Blue Lancer in two lengths ahead of Best Doings. The 3-5 choice, The Pincher, folded in the final sixteenth and finished third.

Senior High Will Field Soph Team If Interest Warrants

Mansfield Senior high school will field a sophomore baseball team this spring if any county schools are interested in playing, Coach Mike Byelene said today.

Byelene, in his first season as head coach of the Tygers, said that he did not plan to cut any of the 40 boys now out from the squad. Sixty boys were out the first two days of practice but only 40 showed up yesterday.

"Of course we'll field the nine best players," Mike said 'but the others can remain on the squad if they wish. Then if any of the smaller schools in the area are interested in playing, we will field a sophomore team to meet them." Byelene will handle both units himself.

Several fine prospects who got experience in Hot Stove league play last summer are out for the sport but are unable to push their way onto the first team because of the presence of six regulars from last year's district champions.

The Tygers held three hour practices the first three days this week with much emphasis being placed on batting practice. Wet grounds will probably keep them indoors today.

Madison's scheduled baseball game with Galion today was called off because of the water-soaked condition of Blue Goose park. Madison will play Lexington next Tuesday.

The Senior high track team will now get the honor of opening the Mansfield spring sports scene when it meets Columbus East at 2 p. m. Saturday at Stadium field

Rolfe Feels Boston Tops In American

By LEO H. PETERSEN
United Press Sports Editor.

LAKELAND, Fla. —(UP)—Robert (Red) Rolfe, one of the newcomers to major managerial warfare, is aiming for a fourth place finish for his Detroit Tigers this year.

"The Red Sox look like the toughest, then Cleveland and the Yankees," Rolfe said. "I don't see any club beating them out, but if any one does, I honestly feel we have the best chance."

But at the same time he left no doubt that a fourth place finish would satisfy him in his first year at the helm of a major league club.

However, he pointed out:

"They don't hire you to finish fourth or even second. They hire you to win. So until we are beaten on the field, nothing that is said or done on paper is going to take us out of the race."

He has, he feels, two big problems—finding a second baseman and developing a good relief corps. He had hoped to solve the latter by taking Paul (Dizzy) Trout off the starting list and making the bespectacled right-hander, his chief fireman. But those plans may have to be changed unless he can come up with another starter to take the place left vacant when Art Houtteman was seriously injured in an automobile accident.

With Houtteman out of the picture until the season is well underway, at least, Hal Newhouser, Virgil Trucks, Freddie Hutchinson and Ted Gray will be the starting pitchers.

CHANGE ON TROUT?

Among Lou Kretlow, Hal White and rookie Saul Rogovin, Rolfe hopes to find a fifth starter, otherwise he will have to change his plans on Trout. That would leave Lefty Overmire, who doesn't rate too highly in Rolfe's scheme of things, as the chief relief hope

Rolfe admits that wouldn't be so good.

"Lack of adequate relief pitching hurt more than anything else last year," he said. "You can't go very far unless you have guys out there in the bullpen who can come in and save the tight ones for you."

Second Base Long has been a trouble spot since peppery Eddie Mayo had such a brilliant year in 1945. Eddie Mayo has gone to Toledo as manager of the farm club. That leaves Eddie Lake, the former shortstop, Conny Berry and Rookie Bob Mavis, who hit .309 at Birmingham last year, battling for the spot.

First base is open, too, for Rolfe is not satisfied with George Vico's hitting Tony Lupien, obtained from the White Sox, and the veteran Paul Campbell, who has never quite made the grade, are the other candidates with Lupien probably getting the nod to open the season at least.

The other two infield spots are set with George Kell, probably the best in the business today, at third and Johnnie Lipon at short.

Rookie Johnny Groth, whom most all baseball men agree is heading for sure greatness, makes Detroit's outfield prospects bright. He will open in center with Hoot Evers holding down one of the other garden spots and the disappointing Dick Wakefield, Pat Mullin and Vic Wertz battling it out for the other.

Tops Schedule

DAYTON — (UP) — A triangular match with Ohio State and the Quantico Marines May 7 will highlight the University of Dayton golf schedule this year, coach Tom Blackburn announced today.

Managua, Nicaragua to Seek Team for Spring Ball Drills

By LAWTON CARVER
(INS Sports Editor)

NEW YORK — Managua, Nicaragua, has a new stadium which packs in 45,000 people for baseball games and is looking for a major league team to do its conditioning there in the spring of next year.

Latin-American countries are slightly daffy on the subject of baseball, as some major league clubs have found out in gathering in spring harvests of sheckels, and Nicaragua is confident of landing a major league outfit for three weeks or a month.

Jose M. Moncada currently is working on the proposition in behalf of the government. Moncada is consul general of country and has the support of General Anastasio Somoza, chief of the army, who is seeking to bring American athletes to his native land.

Moncada said that Nicaraguans are as avid baseball fans as any to be found in America and pay the equivalent of $6 a head to watch the competition among local leagues. They pack the big and modern new stadium to the rafters, he said.

He explained that his country is rich, that it is beautiful, and that it is sports minded, but somehow neglected all these years by North Americans.

"You don't know what you've missed until you have seen my country," he said.

Most of the southern countries have winter baseball leagues, besides their regular season leagues of various kinds and they have even produced a number of really good ball players.

Only recently the Yankees purchased a couple of minor leaguers who are starring in the Puerto Rican winter league.

Moncada is of the opinion that his country and the surrounding countries would possibly offer a brand new source of major league material if properly exploited. He said the major leaguers haven't even begun to tap this potential supply of talent.

SUSTAINED application to major objectives well on their way to fuller fulfillments; should be carried over for several days. The same benefic and benevolent sidereal forces are in operation, enhancing, advancing and enriching all along the line of studiously worked out plans, campaigns and ambitions. Diversion or relaxation could be found in social, romantic, domestic or cultural avenues, with benefit to the taxing matters in hand. Aim at far goals as well as immediate emoluments or gratifications.

Those whose birthday it is, are encouraged to proceed on projects and campaigns already well established, with the idea of future security, growth, increased real possessions and solid objectives. By way of relaxation all family, social professional and cultural functions should assist in maintaining equilibrium for overactive and strenuous effort. The far vision may be made clearer by proper perspective.

Left Bequest For Schooling

An inducement to go to college was provided for an 11-year-old girl when her grandmother, Mrs. Nora B. Cairns, who died March 1, left the girl $2,000 for educational purposes.

The will, admitted to probate in Richland county probate court yesterday, provided for the sum to go to the granddaughter, Janice Seymour, to aid in providing expenses for a college education.

Balance of the estate was left to the deceased woman's daughter, Mrs. Russell B. Seymour, of 185 Taylor road. She was named executrix of the estate, estimated at $15,000.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 8 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

'Pig' Found Harmless

The little guinea pig at General hospital, cause of a lot of furore and an extended search Tuesday, was given a clean bill of health today, Wayne A. Copeland, hospital superintendent, said.

"As far as we can determine from tests made yesterday, the guinea pig does not have TB," Copeland said.

The small animal, one of several used for inoculation purposes at the hospital, was stolen Sunday night. It had been inoculated with TB germs in order to determine if a hospital patient had contracted the disease. The animal was found Tuesday noon at a home on Bartley avenue, after the boys who took it from the hospital building had given it away.

'Fish Bowl' Tickets Trap Pair

Mansfielders Held At Upper Sandusky

A 26-year-old Miller street man and a 17-year-old youth who lives near Mansfield were held in the Wyandot county jail at Upper Sandusky today for investigation.

The sheriff's office there said the two and a third youth were picked up as "suspicious characters." Deputies said they found about 500 "fish bowl" gambling tickets in their car.

The third youth, arrested with them at 3 p m yesterday afternoon, was released since he was a "victim of circumstances," deputies said.

Juvenile authorities here were informed of the case Prosecutor Harold Lutz said he had been in contact with the Wyandot county prosecutor, who is investigating the case. He said there was no evidence so far for filing charges here

The man and the two youths left Mansfield at 1 p. m Tuesday, Wyandot county sheriff's deputies said. The man completed a three-year probation Sept. 26, 1948, on a plea of guilty in common pleas court here to carrying concealed weapons.

Charge for Fireworks

Arlin field will be divided into two sections for the Fourth of July fireworks celebration, it was decided last night at a meeting of Mansfield park representatives.

The north side seats will be reserved at 50 cents each; those on the south side will be sold for the general admission price of 25 cents. Frank Gillingham, president of the North Lake Parks association, will head the ticket committee.

Approximately $2,000 will be spent on fireworks for the holiday celebration here, according to Jay Shadel, general chairman. It is hoped, Shadel said, the ticket sale will cover the cost of the fireworks, which already have been ordered.

The gate at Arlin field will open at 6 p. m. and the program will start at 7 p m There will be planned entertainment from 7 p. m. until dark and then the fireworks display. Plans for the entertainment are under the direction of Donald D. Cram, president of the South Boulevards Parks association

Other committee chairmen include: Philip Renie, Prospect Park president, and Steve Gerber, Liberty park, in charge of refreshments; Lee Kirkpatrick, Johns Park, parking.

Ex-Hollywood Musician Tells Story of His Conversion

Mansfielders stood in the aisles last night at Johnny Appleseed auditorium to hear Les Barnett, former Hollywood musician, tell the story of his conversion to Christianity.

Every available seat was filled and scores were turned away, according to Rev. Charles L. Shook, campaign chairman

"I didn't go to Hollywood to live a life of sin," Barnett declared, "but to make good. The road of sin takes you downward gradually a step at a time until after a while you are miles from where you started.

"You find yourself doing things you never dreamed of. The night life of Hollywood is hard on the day-time work at the studio. In order to keep going during the day, I soon found myself taking a glass of liquor for breakfast and at intervals throughout the day. It was not long until I had become an alcoholic.

"A person who lives a life of sin can't stand to be alone. Martha Raye and I attempted to console each other in our loneliness. When my health was at the breaking point I asked Rudy Vallee (his former employer) for two weeks off. I went to my home town in Eldorado, Ill., returning to Hollywood by way of Springfield, Mo., to visit friends. It was while there that I accompanied a friend to church."

Barnett told how he went to the altar at the invitation of the pastor. "I realized I was saved," he recalled. "I sent Rudy Vallee an air mail letter and told him what had happened Rudy said, 'If the Lord can do that for you and hold you to it, I may try it myself.'

"If you don't know the Lord, try Him," Barnett concluded. "You will never take your hand out of His, once you have put it there"

Leonard Hurwitz was elected to the presidency of the Mansfield Optimist club yesterday at the club's annual election meeting He succeeds B. J. McMahan.

A new constitution also was adopted by the organization yesterday.

Vice presidents elected were Robert Peele and Alden Lash, Roland Frasher was voted into the sergeant-at-arms position, and Donald Swallen was returned to the secretary-treasurer spot.

Elected to the board of directors were Ralph Stevens, Frank Goldsmith, John Swank, and Ernest Schafer.

"Their reaction was one of the finest we have ever had," Earl Heasley, dramatics teacher and director, said. "If we get as much enthusiasm from the parents as we did from our own students, the cast will be well pleased"

Leads in the famed Broadway play will be taken by Audrey McCoy and David Stanton. Ten seniors make up the cast.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Remember How We Talked?

It went like this at the Hooper's the other night. Hap's eighteen-year-old daughter is talking about "a real gone guy—solid—out of this world, but def."

"Now what kind of language is that?" Hap barks. "Can't she speak English?"

"I'll translate it for you," Ma Hooper says, "in the language of the twenties, when you were about twenty years old. She simply means this fellow is the 'cat's whiskers.' Remember how we used to talk sometimes?" Hap went back to reading his newspaper.

From where I sit, it's easy to criticize the other person when we don't take a good long look at ourselves. Sure, there'll always be some differences. I'm fond of a temperate glass of beer and maybe you would prefer ginger ale—but let's just live and let live. Because when we go out of our way to find things to find fault with in others, chances are they can find a few in us, too.

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1949

Senator Taft favors a budget cut instead of a tax boost—such an old-fashioned idea!

Another traffic safety suggestion puts it: "The hands that lift the cup that cheers should not be used to shift the gears."

One observer concludes that modern parents divide their time between worrying over how their children will turn out and when they will turn in.

Ohio's Neglected Institutions

OHIO has been so woefully lacking in modernizing and expanding its penal and welfare institutions that the $50,000,000 asked by State Welfare Director John L. Lamneck for new buildings and repairs to old ones seems not too large a sum to be economically expended for such purposes.

The program of betterment outlined by Director Lamneck links closely with some of the recommendations made a few days ago by Arthur L. Glattke, former reformatory superintendent, now state commissioner of corrections, who has given years of study to this subject.

Considered locally, it cannot be doubted that the state reformatory has departed greatly from its original intent, because of the need to commit all types of youthful offenders to this institution, thus retarding the process of reformation which may well be regarded as the chief aim of such an institution.

One idea of Mr. Glattke is that all penal offenders should be passed through a receiving center to be examined and classified, before being committed to an institution, with separation of defective delinquents from "more hopeful" offenders.

Need for more facilities to carry through any such program is obvious, and the budget request of Director Lamneck approaches the financing phase of the project, with slightly above one million dollars allocated to improvements at the reformatory here.

Expansion of facilities at the Lima state hospital for criminal insane is also proposed, with a view to relieving prisons of mental cases which require special treatment. A new reformatory on state-owned land at Grafton is also presented as a part of the projected improvement program.

It is pointed out by Mr. Lamneck that the requested appropriation of $50,000,000 will cover only a bare minimum of actual urgent needs—but this would at least be a start in what has been a long-neglected state responsibility.

Rent Controls Continue, In a Way

ANYHOW, April 1—which is tomorrow—seems an appropriate date for the new rent control law to go into effect, as it seems properly worded to fool a lot of folks—landlords and tenants alike.

The gimmick in this new law is the provision whereby state legislatures can wipe out federal rent controls in entire states, or parts thereof, and, with approval of the governor, any city, town or village can remove rent controls in its area.

Theoretically, Tighe Woods, who is called the federal housing expeditor, continues as rent control boss of the country, with authority to remove controls in any area at any time he wishes—also to restore them to any decontrolled area if he deems it advisable.

An effort to protect property owners who have been required to hold rentals at a money-losing level is found in the provision that rents are to be adjusted so as to give landlords "a fair net operating income . . . so far as practicable," but this seems rather hazy, and will require a formula for general application.

Pressure heretofore exerted to remove all rent controls may now be expected to be transferred to states and communities, and many interesting incidents may be anticipated as broadened opportunities for rent increases under the new law are recognized and acted upon.

It is the widespread housing shortage that is held to justify continuance of watered-down rent controls for another fifteen months, and it will be hoped that the volume of building will be sufficient, during that time, to warrant abandonment of this restraint on "free enterprise."

Ersatz Foods Fail To Meet Needs

OCCASIONALLY someone comes up with an idea for a chemical substitute for meat or some other essential food. The latest example is found in Germany, where a group of scientists has developed two "ersatz" products which are said to taste and have the same nutritious qualities as meat and milk. According to one enthusiast, "This is potentially the greatest innovation in human feeding since people began to cook."

It will be well to take this with several grains of salt. In the past, it has been "discovered" how people can get the nutritive qualities of meat out of pills and capsules made from sawdust, powdered vegetables and a long list of other substances. But nothing much has come of them.

Real meat—like real milk and real bread—is a basic part of the diet. Only a handful of food hobbyists have found substitutes desirable.

Washington Calling

No Freedom In Russia

By MARQUIS CHILDS

NEW YORK — The picket line and the mass demonstration have long been a form of violent political expression here in this teeming, febrile crossroads of the world. Only yesterday were the demonstrations, the clashes, the picket lines that marked the feverish period preceding World War II.

Often in that period the political lines shifted with dismaying rapidity. There was that strange time when the communists in New York, in response to the Soviet-Nazi pact, abruptly joined up with the isolationists and hurled such epithets as "imperialist warmonger" at anyone who dared to say the nazis were a menace to peace.

Observing what happened here during the past week end, one must admit, however sadly, that the symptoms of that earlier period are recurring. The temperature is ominously rising. The hatreds and fears are mounting.

But there was one meeting which was a kind of calm at the center of the whirlwind—a quiet place where men and women were profoundly concerned about truth. That was the meeting held at Freedom House by Americans for intellectual freedom.

One after another the speakers told, with abundant documentation, how the freedom of the poet to write, the freedom of the musician to compose, the freedom of the scientist to inquire and experiment are being destroyed in the Soviet Union. It was a frightening picture of spreading darkness decreed by an all-powerful dictatorship.

These speakers did not claim that all is perfect in this country. Far from it! They pointed to the all-too-frequent interference here with the basic freedoms. But, as they pointed out, the right to protest, to criticize, to demand redress is very much alive. In Russia the answer to even the mildest criticism is the concentration camp.

* * *

Science Disregarded.

ONE speaker who made a deep impression was Dr. H. S. Muller, professor of zoology at Indiana University. Dr. Muller is a Nobel prize winner in genetics, which is the branch of biology dealing with heredity.

He began in his quiet, schoolmaster's voice speaking about what a tender growth science is. The right of free inquiry and free experimentation is so new in the world. It has come at the end of a long, long struggle against various forms of absolutism and tyranny.

Then he began to talk about something he had seen at firsthand in Soviet Russia. Dr. Muller had come to know the leaders of the science of genetics in Moscow. They were brilliant men who worked tirelessly and organized persistently to push back the horizon of knowledge.

But the political bosses at the top of the Communist party in Russia decided that the conclusions of the geneticists were contrary to political doctrine.

They began systematically to tear down the whole organization the genetic scientists had built up.

Under pressure some of the scientists "confessed" their guilt. Others were banished. In 1940 the most famous geneticist, N. I. Vavilov, former head of the Lenin academy of agricultural science, was arrested. He died in Siberia in 1942, his important papers destroyed.

The official belief rigidly enforced today is that human beings who live under a superior environment will tend to become innately superior. Those who live in an inferior—and this can be translated capitalist—environment become innately inferior.

This is directly contrary to all the patient findings of several generations of scientists. As Dr. Muller pointed out, it repeats the nazi creed of innate master and subject races and classes.

Speaking of Your Health

Good Posture Is Asset

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

GOOD posture is not only an aid to beauty but a positive health asset. In other words, if you indulge in slumping you will eventually pay a price for it—and a painful one, because one of the penalties usually exacted is backache.

Of course, backache may result from other causes but by far the most common type of low back pain is due to nothing more than a long-continued habit of faulty standing or sitting.

Standing Correctly.

When a person stands correctly—head high, chest in, shoulders back, abdomen flat—his body is perfectly balanced and poised for action. Very little effort is required to keep it in the upright position.

But suppose the abdomen sags, the chest is flattened, the shoulders humped, and the back swayed inward. Then everything is thrown out of alignment and normal body balance is upset. In order to maintain the erect position, undue strain is placed on muscles and ligaments which support the spine.

Long-term result of such strain is pain in the lower part of the back where the stress is greatest.

This type of backache is known as mechanical backache because it is due to a disturbance of the factors which upset normal body balance.

Chief Victims.

Women are the chief victims of mechanical backache, possibly due to the frequency in women of poor posture, and weak muscles.

To make a diagnosis of mechanical backache, a thorough study is required, including X-rays of the spine and a careful physical examination.

Once the diagnosis is made, treatment properly carried out will relieve the symptoms.

The patient with mechanical backache should sleep on a firm bed, using a piece of plywood between the mattress and springs. Heat will aid in relaxing the back muscles and stimulate circulation. Hot tub baths are satisfactory.

An infra-red lamp or a heating pad may be used. Massage is helpful. Certain exercises, carried out regularly, will also be of great benefit. A supporting corset or belt may be worn if the abdominal muscles are weak and if the patient is overweight.

Discussions Precede Signing of Pact

By J. C. OESTREICHER

FOREIGN MINISTERS of the democratic powers are coverging upon Washington for the signing of the North Atlantic Defense Pact amid signs that negotiations of the next few days may solve a number of major issues

One may be the status of the colonial areas which Benito Mussolini developed with such skill in Northern Africa before he decided to commit his nation to a course of conquest which almost destroyed it

The simultaneous presence in Washington of British Foreign Secretary Bevin, French Foreign Minister Schuman and Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza will provide an excellent opportunity to attack this problem

Of greatest significance is a plan hatched by the French foreign office which could lead to a satisfactory settlement or provide the world with a new powder-keg, depending upon the reaction of those involved.

The French arrangement calls for three-power jurisdiction over Libya, the huge land in the dead center of North Africa which was a major spoil of countless wars in ancient Roman times.

France proposes that the great area, much of it fallow desert, be split into three portions, ostensibly for administrative purposes but obviously for strategic and commercial advantages as well. Under this arrangement, Italy would retain that portion of Libya known as Tripolitania. This contains the important Mediterranean harbors of Tripoli and Sirte. Later negotiations presumably would establish whether Benghazi is to be included

Great Britain would receive Cyrenaica, the eastern section of Libya which borders upon Egypt and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan

France, as a co-victor in the second World war and as originator of the plan, would receive the southern area known as the Fezzan, all desert space except for two oases.

In an effort to offset some of the objections to such a territorial carve-up, France proposes that the new Libya be governed on an over-all level by a commission of five nations embracing France, Britain, Italy, the United States and Egypt.

This might mollify some Italian objections for Italy's major preoccupation at this stage in history is to obtain a position of equality with other great powers.

What Some Other People Are Saying

SENATOR ROBERT TAFT, Ohio Republican: "If we are not going to have to vote for a tax increase in June, we will have to cut all proposed federal expenditures, or have a deficit of 800 million dollars. If we are not willing to cut ERP, there is little hope that we can cut others."

* * *

LOUIS A. JOHNSON, secretary of defense: "There will be no vying between the three services for headlines. When there are secrets they will be kept."

ROI OTTLEY, author who has been mentioned as possible "racial relations secretary" to President Truman: "Segregation—the theory of being separate yet in some respects equal—doesn't work out."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

American Diplomats Still Underpaid

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — One of the few pieces of legislation passed to date by the 81st Congress was a bill just about doubling the President's salary and housekeeping allowance. Meanwhile, American diplomats, stationed on the first line of defense, are still hopefully waiting for their promised but pitifully small increase of $330 a year.

This increase was tied to the bill boosting the President's pay check. For last year all other federal employes had been given a raise—but not U. S. diplomatic personnel abroad.

Some of them, beginning on a salary as low as $2,000, can barely make both ends meet, and are supposed to keep up proper appearances as representatives of the great United States.

U. S. foreign service officials are stationed from Sinkiang to Tasmania, from Oslo to Durban, where the 40-hour week enjoyed by other officials is as rare as a smile on the face of John L. Lewis.

A bulletin recently sent to these employes quoted Senator Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts as saying: "Americans in the foreign service need to have great pride in their country. And it should be a pride that shows through, that reflects the true worth of the American way of life."

However, the President's salary boost was passed by Congress while the struggling, run-of-the-mine U. S. diplomat abroad got none. Furthermore, the ritzy boys with drag at the top came out fairly well. Their allowances weren't cut.

But because the budget bureau sliced the state department even below last year, many of the poorly paid, struggling young diplomats at the bottom had $100 cut off their living and rental allowances.

To them the Truman "fair deal" has turned out to be the "raw deal." For, while we spend billions on the European Recovery Program, we nurse nickels on the front line of the American program for peace.

Note — One reason the American diplomatic service has been so notoriously inept is that it has been so underpaid. Only wealthy men could afford to become career diplomats, and wealth does not necessarily mean brains.

* * *

He Who Gets Spanked.

LONG-SHANKED House majority leader John McCormack can be a rough antagonist when he gets warmed up, but seldom has he been in such fighting form as during a lecture on racial tolerance the other day.

His target was race-baiting, rabble - rousing Representative John Rankin of Mississippi, who had just delivered a speech singling out Israel, along with the continents of Europe, Asia and Africa, as a "sinkhole" into which we are "pouring" relief funds.

Angrily McCormack told Rankin to "sit down." Then he blistered: "I have no feeling against anyone because of accident of birth. I was not consulted when I was brought into this world, neither was anyone else and I do not think accident of birth should operate against anyone.

"A man's racial origin means nothing to me, a person's name means nothing to me. A person's religion I respect. But what does mean everything to me is a person's mind.

"And when I meet a person with a bigoted mind, I am meeting a person I do not like, a person I have nothing but contempt for."

Stung to the quick, Rankin vehemently demanded that McCormack's words "be taken down" by the clerk, the House instrument of censure. However, what most irked Rankin apparently was not the lecture on tolerance, but an added McCormack remark "in which the gentleman from Massachusetts deliberately and falsely accused me of opposing every measure for the defense of my country prior to Pearl Harbor."

However, McCormack's senior colleague, fair - minded Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, promptly sat on the boisterous little Dixiecrat, by ruling him out of order.

Merry-Go-Round.

MARION CARPENTER, the lady photographer who plopped a bowl of bean soup in columnist Tris Coffin's face, may be asked to eat her soup somewhere else besides the Senate restaurant. A move to bar Miss Carpenter from the restaurant will be taken up at the next meeting of the Senate rules committee . . . Senator Watkins of Utah will ask President Truman to postpone the signing of the North Atlantic Pact until Congress and the nation have had a chance to study it. Watkins will claim that 17 days' examination of the Pact is not sufficient time in which to study the most important change in America's foreign policy in 150 years.

Fast and Faster Horses

By INEZ ROBB

KING RANCH, Kingsville, Texas—The King Ranch breeds two kinds of horses: fast and faster.

In the fast category are some 2900 quarter horses, the summa cum laude in cow ponies. In the latter class is the King Ranch racing stable of about 100 fast hay-burners, headed by Assault, the horse that was fast enough to win the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes in 1946.

If I had a modicum of horse sense, I would probably be able to quit this newspaper racket and pick up a fortune at the race track this season as I have a personal introduction to Assault and about a million-dollars worth of his thoroughbred associates.

But as one to whom "Racing Form" is just so much restaurant Greek, I fear all this inside information is as much wasted on me as was the formula for making a fortune in the market once given me by the late Jesse Livermore, "The Wolf of Wall Street."

Can I help it if I haven't got a head for hosses or figures? All I can tell the rail birds is that Assault never looked prettier and that his associates in the racing stable, particularly the two-year-olds, are each and all beautiful enough to win the Miss America title at Atlantic City next autumn.

Assault, the hard luck horse, is now retraining on the fast mile track that is part of the King Ranch. But nobody, neither Bob and Dick Kleberg, who own and operate the ranch and stable, nor Dr. J. K. Northway, the King veterinarian, are certain he will ever race again.

As a frisky colt, Assault injured his right front foot when his curiosity led him to paw a surveyor's stake too vigorously. In his last race in Florida in 1948, he further sprained the injured foot and was retired. Subsequently, he developed three splints, an inflammation of the bone on the side of the leg.

If no new splint develops, the horse fans who once cheered Assault home after first betting their shirts on him, may have a chance to repeat the performance.

* * *

Indulge In Guessing.

"ASSAULT looks better now than at any time in his career," Dr. Northway declared. "But it's impossible now to say if he'll ever race again."

Dr. Northway added that everyone on the King Ranch would like to know what Assault could do against Warren G. Wright's great nag, Citation. The doctor smiled the ranch's confidence in the bright chestnut horse and said:

"We think he'd beat Citation if he was in condition."

If Assault is in shape, he will accompany twenty King Ranch racers east for the spring and summer season. But none of them will be shipped east until after April 16, when Helenita Kleberg, daughter of Bob, is to marry Dr. Deaver Alexander.

All the Kleberg family will be present for that event, and since Assault and his stable males are part of the family, naturally they will be present, too.

The thoroughbreds are fed 400 pounds of carrots every day. But on April 16, the carrot ration will be doubled and laced with lumps of sugar.

The race horses are accustomed to sugar, too, as Dr. Northway habitually carries a pocketful and the horses habitually nuzzle in his pockets to find it.

The two-year olds to be shipped east after the wedding include "Air Lift," a full brother of Assault, whom Northway thinks is another champion.

"But I could be prejudiced," the doc laughed.

He also thinks another colt, Time Keeper, is something pretty special. Time Keeper is a full brother of Stymie, whose loss the Kleberg clan will never cease to mourn. The King Ranch trainer made the error of entering Stymie in a $1,500 claiming race. He was snatched up by Hirsch Jacobs and subsequently became the world's leading money winner with more than $900,000 in the till.

If Stymie's brother, Time Keeper, turns out to be a fast horse with a way with purses, the collective Kleberg faces will be a lot less red.

Dave Boone Says:

IT SEEMS to me that the cultural and scientific conference was overpicketed and overemphasized. It must have made those Russians dizzy to find a country making a supercircus out of what they didn't think would amount to much more than a minor attraction.

* * *

The conference got more free space in the American newspapers than if it hadn't been under suspicion.

* * *

I see where the Senate and House conferees approve letting communities decide what to do about their own housing problems, with state approval. The idea of Washington not deciding what's best for every community everywhere is pretty startling and has to be taken gradually these days.

* * *

I would think that American governors, as a class, walked upright, had hearts in the usual place, and were as sincerely anxious for proper housing as anybody viewing the whole situation by telescope from the Potomac

Farmer's Diary

Planning the Garden

By CALVIN A. BYERS

DURING the weekend, the boys brought from the village stable of a friend who owns riding horses, a big trailer load of horse manure for making a hotbed.

The southeast corner of the house, between kitchen ell and real wall, was the spot chosen. Here the north and west winds are hedged away, and the eastern and southern sunshine reflects, even in winter.

They had never made a hotbed before, so the venture was a novelty. First they unloaded the manure, to a depth of two feet. Then, though the ground was slightly frozen, the compost heap was not. They brought two loads of fine compost and spread it evenly upon the steamy manure within the frame

Instead of window frames, like we used when I was a boy, we contrived frames covered with "flexoglass", a purplish plastic stuff that tacked on easily. One boy suggested matter-of-factly that if necessary, we could always heat the frame with an electric heater, since the kitchen outlet was just inside a window, and a pane could be removed.

Their mother has already planted tomato seeds in a window flat. These are "Big Boy" hybrids. The seeds came, 30 to the packet, with a smaller waxed envelope inside the regulation-size package. On the waxed envelope, in red letters, "These seeds are valuable — open packet carefully — use the utmost care in sowing."

The seed catalog says that the fruits weigh 10 ounces, and mature in 78 days. Staked plants grow to great height and yield great quantities of meaty fruit.

We shall transplant the seedlings to the outside frames when they are two inches high. When the plants are moved into the garden I shall plant cabbage seed in the cold frame.

We hope to have an acre of garden truck, this year. Also we will plant peach and apple trees, strawberries, and melons.

Vegetables and fruits have, for me, a fascination. I enjoy to handle and arrange them—I enjoy hoeing on a summer morning. At various times in my life I have made my living by selling vegetables and fruits.

As a very small boy, I rode upon an old spring wagon drawn by a team of draft horses to curb market on Green avenue, in Altoona, Pa. We usually got there just as the electric arc lights were switched out—with a burst of force that left an indelible impression upon boyish ears

Fresh tomatoes! new cabbage! beans, peas, "schmierkase", baked goods! M-m-m! It makes me hungry.

European Officials Reach U. S.

Bevin, Gromyko Land At N. Y.

NEW YORK — (INS) — British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and the foreign minsters of three other western European nations arrived in the United States yesterday for the signing of the North Atlantic pact in Washington next week.

A barrage of eggs and tomatoes was hurled at Bevin's car as it drove away from the pier where the British foreign minister debarked from the liner Queen Mary.

The missiles were thrown by a group of about 75 youths who described themselves as "unaffiliated" Jewish high school and college students. They charged police lines at the dock and two of their number were arrested.

Many of the youths carried crudely-made signs declaring "no welcome for bloody Bevin."

The British diplomat was picketed at the dock by a group identifying itself as representing the "Jewish Committee to Combat Anti-Semitism." These demonstrators carried signs reading:

"Send that bundle back to Britain."

So far as could be determined, no one in the Bevin party was hit in the egg and tomato bombardment.

By contrast with the turbulent leave-taking of the Bevin group from the dock, another noted Queen Mary passenger —Russia's Andrei Gromyko— slipped away virtually unnoticed.

Gromyko, newly-appointed first deputy Soviet foreign minister, will head the Soviet delegation to the United General assembly beginning April 5.

Two Escape as Train Strikes Auto Twice

CINCINNATI — (INS) — A Cincinnati motorist and his passenger agreed today "if it's not one thing, it's two."

Walter Brune, 32, the motorist, and George Coveline, 34, the passenger, told police they escaped from their auto when it was struck, not by one, but two trains in Cincinnati.

Jets Proved Success, New Problems Loom

By JAMES J. STREBIG
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON—Did you ever try to light a match in a hurricane?

The designers of jet engines had to do that and solve a lot of other tough problems at the same time. One of these was keeping a wheel together while it spun 15,000 times a minute in a 1,200 degree blast of gas.

Once the answers were found the turbo-jet engine took its position as a milepost on aviation is high road of history. The jet ripped speed and altitude limits off airplanes. It showed the way to almost unlimited power. But it brought more problems.

Scientists were sent scampering for new fuels that could be packed into the smaller spaces. Planes had to be smaller and sleeker to reduce drag. They had to be stronger to bear the shock of rough air at high speed. They had to be refrigerated against the heat of air friction and pressurized to permit pilots to live in the stratosphere.

The pilot needed special attention, too. He had to demonstrate quick reactions, instant judgment. He had to be given instruments that can be read easily, aided by mechanical devices to perform much of the management of engines and flight controls. He had to be protected against rapid acceleration and deceleration and be equipped to bail out at very high speeds and altitudes.

The jet plane, as powered in the form common today for military aircraft and a few experimental transports, made its first flight only ten years ago in Germany. The Germans alone developed it in time to use it for day and night flighting and for bombing.

The Germans also led the way with rocket-powered planes, making the first such flight 20 years ago. They developed rocket power further for the deadly V-2 missile. In this country it has been adapted to high speed research, particularly in the super-sonic or faster-than-sound range.

Since German developments were not available to us until the end of the war in Europe, much American jet work is associated with that begun in England, where the first jet plane flew in 1941. The United States did not fly a jet plane until Oct. 1, 1942. Combining engineering skill with expertness in aerodynamics, this country soon took the lead, however.

In the few intervening years, jets have taken over leadership in the military field. Their advance into commercial aviation is at a much slower pace. No jet transport has been started in this country. England and Canada are working on them, however.

The propeller plane already has squeezed days, weeks and months out of commercial transportation. Until the fruits of current research and development are realized, the cost of taking out additional minutes and hours with jet craft will be difficult to justify.

Germans Unite to Keep Track of 'Lost' Prisoners In Red Concentration Camps

BERLIN — (AP) — "Silence is suicide" is the slogan of the anti-communist "fighting group against inhumanity" founded last fall in western Berlin.

The group claims that shortly after the war ended, the Russians arrested more Germans than the concentration camps built by the nazis could hold. It is now trying to find out what happened to these people.

Its leader is 34-year-old Dr. Rainer Hildebrandt, a former prisoner of the nazi Gestapo. He was arrested during the war on grounds of underground activity against the nazi regime and spent 17 months in jail.

That is one of the reasons why Dr. Hildebrandt set up the "Fighting group Against Inhumanity."

"I know what it means to be a political prisoner." he says. Under the slogan "Silence is Suicide," he arranged several rallies in Berlin last fall at which refugees from Russian concentration camps related their experiences.

"It wasn't so easy to find former prisoners who were willing to speak in public," Dr. Hildebrandt says. Not even western Berlin is a safe refuge for anti-communists from the Russian zone.

The Russian secret police has a long arm and kidnapings of anti-communists from western Berlin are frequent news in Berlin papers.

Dr. Hildebrandt at first had no intention of founding a "fighting group." But after he held his rallies, people came and asked him if he could find out what happened to relatives and friends arrested by the Russians.

Other people said they were willing to work for him. Some made donations to get an organization started.

STARTS OFFICE

Dr. Hildebrandt turned three rooms of his four-room apartment in the British sector of Berlin into offices for the group.

He selected a number of old reliable friends as his collaborators. He doesn't have any money to pay them. They work as volunteers.

Dr. Hildebrandt now spends most of his time interviewing political refugees from the Russian zone.

If they are able to tell him something about the fate of fellow prisoners, it is put on file so their friends and relatives can be informed.

The "Fighting Group Against Inhumanity" receives an average of 100 inquiries a day, half of them by mail. Other people come in person.

The group has some 10,000 such inquiries on file now. They contain personal data of the presumed prisoner and a picture, if available.

These files are compared several times a week with information received from further concentration camp inmates. If one of the missing persons was seen by one of the refugees, the relatives are informed of his last whereabouts.

One of the largest camps, Sachsenhausen, is known as a "death camp" of Hitler's Gestapo.

ACE PILOT—More than a million kilos in the air (625,000 miles) is the proud boast of Yevgenia Lemeshenok, Russian aviatrix shown above at the controls of a big passenger plane in Moscow.

An inmate of this camp under the Russians told Dr. Hildebrandt that he had been a member of the camp burial squad from summer 1945 until late 1948. During these three years 12,000 prisoners died at Sachsenhausen, he asserted.

According to the "Fighting Group Against Inhumanity." only two of the original 16 concentration camps are still in operation — Buchenwald and Sachsenhausen.

"The Russians were able to close the others down," Dr. Hildebrandt explains, "because a great number of inmated died. About 40,000 were deported to Russia."

Advertising Hailed as Job-Saver

'Steady Work' Methods Revealed

Ways to reduce employment fluctuations in Mansfield were offered to the Mansfield Manufacturer's club at its noon meeting yesterday by D. M. Molthrop employment stabilization expert.

Glenn L. Bierly, club president, introduced Molthrop, who is National Association of Manufacturers employment stabilization director.

To reduce job fluctuations Molthrop recommended advertising and other methods of changing habits of customers. He called for diversification of products so that those with seasonality will dovetail with existing products.

In manufacturing, he recommended that employers defer certain work for "slow periods."

Molthrop pointed out changes that might be made in employment control. He called for inventories of job requirements and skills available, training programs, and programs to increase versatility and flexibility of labor forces.

Molthrop told the group assembled at the Mansfield-Leland hotel several instances in his experience where fluctuation problems have been met and resolved using these techniques.

The speaker has handled employment stabilization for the U. S. Steel corporation, was assistant industrial relations director of Carnegie-Illinois Steel, and from 1943 to 1945 had charge of 48 plants of U. S. Gypsum industrial relations.

Molthrop has been in charge of NAM employment stabilization since 1946.

Vegetables Edge Down

(By Associated Press)

Spring vegetables poured into market centers in substantial volume this week, pushing most retail produce prices lower.

Meat prices showed little change from last week except for lamb, which edged a trifle higher in many places. Diary prices remained firm, with grade "A" large eggs up two cents a dozen in a few large cities.

Green grocers said only cucumbers, lettuce and peppers showed over-all pricetag increases this week.

"Real salad weather spead across the country in a big way this week," said one produce spokesman. "Many markets just couldn't supply the demand for the basic salad vegetables, and prices climbed."

But other vegetables, like spinach, carrots, cabbage, celery, broccoli, and cauliflower, were plentiful and somewhat cheaper. Escarole in some markets was selling at less than half of what it brought last week. Onions were described as a drag on the market.

Spend $326.08 To 'Convert' Recruit

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The army disclosed today it spends an average of $326.08 on every recruit by the time it has him in uniform and is ready to go to work on the new soldier in a training center.

An army official explained that costs vary from year to year, but the $326.08 figure is what each recruit cost in the last six months of 1948. During that period 239,049 men joined, or were drafted into, the army.

If homemade doughnuts are greasy after they have been deep-fat fried, the chances are that the fat in which they were cooked was not hot enough.

Turtle Acclaimed As Perfect Pet

MANCHESTER, N.H. — (UP) William S. Golden thinks he's found the perfect house pet. It is a turtle named Oscar.

Oscar was an orphan when Golden found him in a Brooklyn, N. Y., barroom 39 years ago. A drunk had abandoned him there because Oscar wouldn't take a drink with him.

Since then Oscar has seen more of the world than any ordinary turtle. He's traveled by subway, automobile, train and airplane, from Maine to Florida.

Files Answer On Gaming

Glynn D. Bethea, operator of the Corner Billiards, at 246 North Mulberry street, has filed an answer to a suit to recover gambling losses brought by Mrs. Helen J. Ethel, of 542½ Lilly street. Mrs. Ethel seeks $1,250, as result of gambling losses allegedly incurred by her husband, Arthur C. Ethel, at the pool room.

Bethea asked the court to dismiss Mrs. Ethel's petition and declared that he loaned Ethel $200. He said he has not been repaid and asks that if the petition of Mrs. Ethel is not dismissed that he be granted a judgment of $200, with interest from Aug. 1, 1948.

Mrs. Ethel contended that her husband suffered gambling losses of $750 at the pool hall. The addition $500 is sought as damages. The losses were alleged to have occured from Sept. 11, 1947 to Aug. 3, 1948.

Quick, Easy, Neat To Use

Host of Letters Laud "GLASS WAX" As Miracle For All Housecleaning

These unsolicited comments are a few of the hundreds that pour into the Gold Seal Company offices every day. Full name and address of any writer may be had from the Gold Seal Chicago office.

"I have never been as excited about a labor saver as I am about this one. I have 90 windows in my home that sparkle, thanks to 'GLASS WAX.' So easy, and the results are perfect."—Mrs. A. G. B.

"Never in my 35 years of keeping house, has any silver polish equalled 'GLASS WAX'"—Mrs. E. H. H.

"After forty years searching for relief from cloudy windows after taking the trouble to wash them, I've tried 'GLASS WAX' and find it superb. The shine is something unheard of."—Mrs. M. A.

"Let me tell you how thrilled I am about 'GLASS WAX.' I have silver on which I had tried at least five different polishes and cleaners. Never did it look real clean. Now, with 'GLASS WAX,' with one rub or two, it is beautiful."—Mrs. A. T.

"After making my windows and mirrors sparkling clean, my biggest surprise with 'GLASS WAX' was when I used it on a badly soiled toaster. It looks like new."—Mrs. P. S.

"I used your 'GLASS WAX' this morning and I'm wild about it. Chrome, electric utensils, picture glass, mirrors, plastic radio, glass dresser tops, faucets—in fact everything of that nature just glistens in no time at all, and no effort. No damage to my hands and finger nails—and that is important to a secretary who works in an office."—Miss H. F.

"Calling 'GLASS WAX' the miracle cleaner is the understatement of the year. Bought my first can last week and started on my windows and mirrors. Well, you know the usual result. But when I started using it on my sterling flatware that is eighteen years old, and on 'uncleanable' pewterware and saw the sparkling newness return, it was simply amazing."—Mrs. B. R. S.

"When your advertisement on 'GLASS WAX' first appeared I said, 'That's for me'—for I have twenty-two windows, many mirrors, plenty of chromium, enameled surfaces and silverware to polish. Well, right in the can of 'GLASS WAX' I bought is the answer to all that hard work. Believe me, it's marvelous! My windows shine like diamonds and I can wash them (all of them) in less than one-half the time it took me before."—Mrs. I. H.

"Besides making things shine like I've never seen before, 'GLASS WAX' saves me the bother of carrying my mirrors and bric-a-brac to the kitchen when they're dirty. I just clean them all in the living-room or wherever they are, and never have any mess left over."

Mrs. J. B.

Chemists Find 30 Kinds of Dirt on Glass

While developing "GLASS WAX," Gold Seal chemists collected and studied sample window panes from homes in many states. Analysis revealed 30 different kinds of dirt and discoloration.

- Greasy soot streaks and salt water minerals dirtied glass in eastern mill towns.
- Sticky pollens, lime dust and tars dulled midwestern windows.
- Stubborn silica deposits stole the gleam from southern and western panes.

Even minute amounts of certain rare minerals were found killing the sparkle of glass in some areas.

Gold Seal chemists found that "GLASS WAX" removed every one of the stubborn grimy films with one easy, streakless application!

Wipes Glass, Metals Clean; No Scrubbing

Hailed by millions of housewives in other sections of the nation, a new and startling chemical discovery, "GLASS WAX," today became available in this city.

This new Gold Seal cleaner for glass and metal surfaces has been widely acclaimed for its amazing ability to remove quickly and easily all dirt and grime, and to add gleaming sparkle to windows, mirrors, tabletops, silverware, porcelain, and all metal surfaces.

Homemakers in this city who want to buy this new product will find it at leading grocery, drug, hardware, variety and department stores.

This safe new chemical discovery saves hours of time, because it instantly removes smudges, stains, and tarnish without back-breaking scrubbing and buffing.

Quick, Easy—Wipe On, Wipe Off

"GLASS WAX" cleaning is tops in simplicity. All that's needed are two dry cloths and "GLASS WAX." Pour a small amount of this sensational chemical on one cloth, wipe on surface to be cleaned, wipe off with the other cloth. All dirt and stain disappear—only glistening brilliance remains. No water, no hard rubbing, no streaks.

"GLASS WAX" cleans 30 kinds of dirt in 30 seconds. Nothing like this amazing speed and ease of cleaning to sparkling brightness was ever known before.

"GLASS WAX" was introduced less than a year ago by the Gold Seal Co. Now millions call it "a cleaning miracle."

New Uses Discovered

Day after day, letters pour in about new and wonderful uses for "GLASS WAX." Millions now benefit through its quick, easy, safe and inexpensive use—cleaning and polishing windows, mirrors, silver, nickle, tile, chrome, brass, copper, pewter, porcelain—all glass, metal, and baked-on enamels.

REMEMBER—There is only one "GLASS WAX," a product of the Gold Seal Co.

Crystal-Clear Film Protects Lustre

After safely dissolving blemishing grime, "GLASS WAX" leaves a transparent protective film that resists new fingerprints, spatters and stains.

A secret chemical in "GLASS WAX" leaves this dirt and moisture resisting film. It cannot be seen, but it is there, automatically making any cleaned surface less attractive to lustre-killing grime.

Next Cleaning Easier

That means once you start cleaning with "GLASS WAX" you'll find surfaces less soiled, easier to restore to sparkling radiance. The crystal-clear film left by "GLASS WAX" helps keep your windows and metal surfaces gleaming bright longer.

Garfield a Man With a Mission, Values Artistry More Than Cash

JOHN GARFIELD is a retired juvenile delinquent in search of a meaning—artistic meaning.

In his crowded lifetime this young man has reversed one kind of Hollywood success story. He was a juvenile delinquent BEFORE he became a movie star.

As a tough-talking youngster, he was on his way to becoming a real problem kid. But Angelo Patri, the famous educator, straightened him out early. He showed him that for a boy of his talent, life held things far more exciting than running from cops.

Today society and its delinquencies are more of a problem to Garfield than he ever was to it.

At 36 he has appeared in a score or more plays and some 27 motion pictures. Currently he is starring on Broadway in Clifford Odets' "The Big Knife," a play on the high cost of Hollywood success. He has just finished "We Were Strangers," a film in which he portrays a rugged American who joins a band of Cuban rebels in a fight against tyranny.

In his own career he has fought hardest against the tyranny of being typed as a side-of-the-mouth-talking tough guy.

"It's good up to a point to be typed—and bad after that," he said during a luncheon talk in the course of which he had two glasses of milk.

"You tip your mitt to the audience. They know what you're going to do next."

Garfield said that achieving a measure of financial security, it was a tasteless pleasure to be starred in a production that held no meaning to him.

"I like to find things off the beaten path," he said. "Unconventional things—that touch me emotionally."

And for that reason he would prefer to play a secondary role in a good picture than star in a bad one.

"I've been eleven years in Hollywood, and I'm grateful," he said.

"A lot of the people there have hobbies — yachts or horses or they grow oranges.

"They become real estate agents. They get involved. I don't want to. I never have owned a house, because I don't want to get tied down. I don't need a hobby, I get all my fun in the theater. And I want to stay flexible. I guess I am just a big ham, but that's where I get my kicks."

It's a risky business in the field of acting, this dropping the bread-and-butter (or cake and champagne) security of a long term movie contract. The freedom of the free lance carries the burden of responsibility in locating the right role—and getting it.

"When you're young you accept all challenges," said Garfield. "When you're older you want guaranties.

"But you know really that there are no guaranties against failure, there is no lasting security. So you face the reality.

"There is no escape from responsibility. But I don't want to be just the richest man in a cemetery—hardly."

Harbinger of Spring–the Circus Gets Set for New York Opening

LOOKING LIKE THE COVER of The Billboard, Spring will invade 49th st. and Eighth ave. on the night of April 6th. Outside Madison Square Garden it will be the same old street with derelicts sagging in the doorways and the all-pervasive smell of bus exhaust. . . . But inside there will be sawdust and spangles, pretty girls, pink tights and clowns dressed "formal" in their zinc-oxide makeup.

There's no red and white wagon inside the Garden, no "midway" and no "backyard." "Clown Alley" is a big boiler-room in the cellar, next to the driveway . . . There's no "cocoon" or "big moth"; all the canvas is neatly wrapped aboard a circus train painted Ringling Red, waiting for the next pole-and-stake town . . . But don't let the neon lights fool you.

When the announcer walks into the center ring and says, "Children of all ages," he means you . . . Don't let the cynics kid you—it's always a better show than last year's. Don't be a "gillie." (Circus people call greenhorns "gillies.")

And what kind of a Circus would it be without elephants? The average Ringling elephant eats 200 lbs, of roughage or grain, 10 to 20 lbs. of pure dirt, a tub or two of water every day . . . When a "bull man" says "shy" to an elephant, he means, "Go to the right." "Mile" means "Go fast." "Mule up" means "Trot." "Tut" means "Stop".

Elephants hate mice and dogs just about more than anything . . . Most "elephant people" are at least slightly deaf. An elephant strumpet is one of the shrillest notes known to man, and eventually a person working near elephants becomes hard-of-hearing . . . Watch a procession of elephants in the Circus—they always "tail-up." Each bull holds by the trunk the swinging tail of the bull immediately ahead in line.

This is because elephants are inveterate souvenir-swipers and would steal hats, canes, purses, etc., from on-lookers, unless they had their trunks secured.

Circus people think regular theatrical troupes are "sissies." They have nothing to do but move in and act, whereas a circus on tour has to build its own show - place daily. Theatrical companies are "hall shows" in circus lingo . . . The cause of most falls by trapeze artists is when the acrobat suddenly gets "cast," i. e., muscle-bound in mid-air, and his body refuses to obey its reflexes. Under such conditions he is helpless.

★

Every year the Ringling show in New York makes a pilgrimage to Bellvue Hospital. This year's the 47th consecutive visit . . . One of the most venerable circus traditions is that a clown must handle the show's mail . . . Believe it or not, chess is one of the most popular off-duty circus games.

The Ringling show may be the greatest on earth, but there's one country which is even more circus-crazy than the U. S.—France has over 50,000 persons regularly employed in itinerant circuses, almost all of them one-ring jobs.

Circus laborers have more ailments, through sickness or accident, than any other group within the Big One. Infected rope-burn is the most common complaint, with sore throat from dust a close second.

Avoid camels; they kick sideways, almost always resulting in a compound fracture . . . When trained bears get too frisky their trainers stop the nonesense by stamping on their toes . . . Don't let anyone tell you "the hypnotic eye" makes animals obey their trainers. It's sheer showmanship.

Mr. Stiffler and Mr. Clark were killed when the boom of a well-drilling machine they were operating, touched a high tension wire in front of the Carl Millington home yesterday morning. The accident occurred on Harding Heights on the Park avenue west road.

Both were employes of the Saltzgaber Drilling company. Mr. Stiffler was superintendent of the company and had been in its employ for 10 years.

Mr. Clark, a veteran of five major engagements in World War II, was a sharp-shooter and had been given five citations. He had moved to Mansfield two years ago from Pittsburgh, where he was employed by a well-drilling company.

New officers will take over their duties at the post's next meeting, April 11.

Bates Made Party Plaintiff

Earl E. Bates, 494 Edgewood road, was made a party plaintiff yesterday in a damage action growing out of a traffic accident.

Hearing of the original action, filed by the State Automobile Mutual Insurance company, was halted in common pleas court at the request of the plaintiff firm. Defendahts are C. J. and Louis Stanchfield, 293 Eighth avenue.

Bates seeks $15,000 for personal injuries as the result of an accident involying his car and the Stanchfield's truck at Lexington avenue and Mendota street Sept. 12, 1947. In addition, he asks $561 for car damages and $1,552 for doctor, hospital and nursing bills.

The insurance company asks $1,338, representing coverage for damages to Bates' car.

YMCA Orders Audit Of Campaign Funds

The YMCA board of trustees last night approved a recommendation at its first meeting under newly-elected President A. B. Grafton to appropriate money for a certified audit of the 1927 building fund drive.

The drive's goal was $500,000, of which only $83,000 was collected. The project was halted at the beginning of the depression.

The audit, proposed by George Draffan, chairman of the property and endowment committee, will be sent to the 2,300 donors to the fund to acquaint them with the fact that the money is still intact, Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA general secretary, said today.

This action by the board is a preliminary to the Y's plan for a new combined drive with the YWCA to construct adjoining buildings.

Other actions at the dinner meeting last night included a report on the progress of the boys' work program by Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer and another on the physical education department by W. D. Corcoran, chairman of the physical education committee.

Cramer's report indicated a large increase in the program over last year. Judge Cramer said 10 Gray-Y clubs, two junior Hi-Y's and five Indian Guide tribes have been organized since the first of the year.

A survey of the work done so far on the YMCA bicycle court also was given by Judge Cramer.

The physical education report showed increased interest in boxing and gymnasium programs. It also mentioned a number of items received by the "Y" for gym equipment.

John Fike, "Y" physical education director, presented a numerical breakdown of the YMCA's activities since Jan. 1. The number of 'Y' meetings increased 25 per cent. Attendance at these meetings topped the 1948 totals by almost four and a half thousand. Fike said every department, especially boy's work, showed substantial attendance increases.

Harry Bowman, 533 Woodland avenue, was elected to replace Richard Tucker as a member of the board. Tucker resigned when responsibilities out of the city forced him to relinquish his YMCA duties.

J. O. Hanley, 451 Davis road, proposed a memorial resolution for R. C. Butler, board member who died Tuesday.

Student's Coat Stolen From Locker

Theft of a $70 topcoat from a student locker at Senior high school was reported to police yesterday by G. C. Templeton jr., 821 Yale drive. Templeton told police the topcoat was stolen from his locker during school hours Tuesday.

GETS RESPONSE—

One Mansfielder already has responded to the call for playground equipment at the Richland county children's home. Mrs George Reece, matron at the home, was pleasantly suprised when a truck delivered three small all-steel teeter totters to the home, The teeters were the gift of M. V. Scouten, of 51 Parkwood boulevard. They are portable equipment which can be used either indoors or out. Mrs. Reece said they would be set up on the playground as soon as the weather is nice enough for the children to play outside. In ex-pressing her appreciation for the gift, Mrs. Reece said other outdoor equipment is still needed to replace what is left of that donated in 1925.

Vacating Of Road Proposed

Evidence to Be Heard Here

The state highway department will conduct a public hearing in Mansfield April 20 on the state's proposal to abandon State Route 545 (Marion avenue road) from Park avenue west and Sturges avenue to its intersection with State Route 97 in Morrow county.

The hearing was set for 2 p. m. in the Richland county courthouse.

At the same time, State Highway Director Theodore J. Kauer, ordered a hearing on arguments for and against relocation of State Route 97, for a distance of 1.59 miles, from a point 948 feet east from Route 545 to a point in Richland county where the proposed new highway will rejoin the present route.

The proposed route runs south of the present highway. Changes were made necessary by the construction of the Clear Fork dam.

County commissioners today ordered public hearings at the same time for proposals to vacate the Aten and Stoller roads in Richland county.

CITY ASKS ACTION

The city asked commissioners to vacate the roads because of the reservoir construction. The hearings will be on vacating of the Aten road from Route 545 to the Morrow county line and of the Stoller road from the Lexington-Ontario road to the Morrow county line.

Abandonment of Route 545 would result in the section in the city from Sturges avenue and Park avenue west to the city limits reverting to the city of Mansfield. The rest of the road to the Morrow county road would revert to Richland county. Sections of the two state roads in Morrow county would revert to that county.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk pointed out today that vacating of the Aten and Stoller roads and Route 545 by the county would take effect at later times specified by the commissioners.

However, abandonment by the state of Route 545 and Route 97 and the new location for the latter highway would become effective immediately at the hearing, if approved.

Commissioners set April 13 at 10 a. m. as their times for viewing the roads, proposed for vacating.

The state hearing also will be on vacating of Route 545 from Main street to Sturges avenue, but the section will stay on the state system as that is also Route 30-S.

Keep World Links Strong, Mansfield YWCA Group Told

"YWCA women and girls are clasping hands to form a chain of friendship around the world," Miss Laura Langendorfer told the 60 employed girls and their guests who attended a dinner at the Mayflower Congregational church last night. The dinner was a part of the 22nd world-wide observance of YWCA business and professional girls.

Miss Langendorfer, of Buffalo, N. Y., former president of the National Business and Professional Women's Council of the YWCA, spoke on the theme of the observance of "Strengthening Our World Links."

She said strengthening these links is very important because if one link is weak the world chain cannot be strong.

She urged her audience not to be complacent and think they were "sitting pretty."

"You are never sitting pretty until every woman and girl in the world is sitting pretty," she added.

Speaking of YWCA commitments, she listed bringing about a more abundant life for women everywhere, eliminating prejudice of all kinds, and helping to build world peace.

A brief history of the observance was given by Miss Dorothy Bacquet, general chairman of the dinner.

Miss Zona Hambrick served as toast-mistress and Miss Alice Wendling led group singing. Accompaniment for the singing was played by Miss Martha Shiplet.

A candelight worship service concluded the program. Taking part in the service were Miss Betty Macy, Miss Erline Reynolds, and Miss Rhea Ohl.

Be sure seeds are worth planting, especially if you are trying for an early start with your vegetables and don't want to face replanting. Seeds held over from last year should be tested for viability or ability to germinate.

Testing can be done at home by the following method Fill a deep plate with sand which has been thoroughly moistened Then place square pieces of thick blotting paper over the sand, pushing it into the sand on the sides so that it will take up moisture. Moisten the blotting paper and place the seeds on it.'

It is best to count out 100 seeds of each kind, for then it becomes easy to figure the percentage of germination The sand must be kept moist and the plate with its contents covered with another plate Keep this simple testing apparatus in a warm place with a minimum temperature of 70 degrees It will be easy to judge by the number that germinate whether the seeds are worth planting

Seeds which germinate poorly must be planted more thickly—if at all—than those which germinate well. The better the germination, the thinner the sowing, within reason

It is common practice to start plants in the house, and this is necessary with long season plants like tomatoes and peppers which need to be planted very early. Most home gardeners, however, will find it wise to buy started plants of such kinds

On the whole, the average gardener will make just as rapid progress by sowing his vegetable seeds in the open ground as by starting them indoors, provided some form of protection is used while the weather remains cold.

The glass device illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph is really a miniature, portable frame, and makes possible the starting of seeds much earlier outdoors

Ruins, Reconstruction Tell Story of Donetz

By EDDY GILMORE

DONETZ COAL BASIN — (AP) —Although much repaired, Russia's rich and famous Donetz coal basin still bears the imprint of German invasion.

. . . A factory rising out of ruins . . .

I saw a small boy at what used to be a three-story stone railway station at Lozovaya. He said he was eleven.

"I remember the war very much," he said. "I lost my mother, father, two sisters and a brother in it. I'm entirely alone."

What was he doing?

"Going to school," he replied.

From Lozovaya, at one corner of the Donetz basin, we went to Slavyansk, a town in the Artemovsk province. It was the same story—ruins and reconstruction.

We moved on to Kramatorskaya. Here was a place that before the war had a huge metallurgical works with thousands of tons of cast-iron porduced annually.

The big works are going again, but only after much reconstruction. Although the metallurgical works were functioning, the railway station has been completely destroyed — right down to the ground.

"The factory and the mills were the important thing," said one of the workers. "They had to be started first. In the meantime we're using this string of boxcars for a station. But we'll get a new one up in time."

Further along the road was Konstantinovka.

Here the metal works had been destroyed along with a huge bottling factory. Both were going again.

"All blown up or burned downed by the Germans," explained one of the citizens looking over the downtown section of the city. She said she had been here during the entire occupation.

"God of mine, we had a terrible time."

City after city. Town after town.

The Donetz basin occupies an area of slightly more than 4,480,000 acres and it contains a great amount of pit coal. The coal is also found in large proportions which is of much benefit to the local metal industry.

The Donetz basin was a target for German penetration.

Pre-School Clinics Set For County, April 1-8

Pre-school clinics for all children entering the first grade in Richland county schools next fall will be held starting April 1, Health Commissioner Dr. Harry Wain said today.

The clinics will be held in the school buildings at designated hours from April 1 to 8.

The importance of these clinics was stressed by Dr. Wain. The children are given physical examinations and their sight and hearing tested.

An undetected physical defect could cause a child to fail in his first attempt at competition with others, Dr. Wain said.

Schedule for the various schools follows:

Morton school, Friday April 1, at 2 p. m. (for children of Morton and Shelby Settlement school); East Mansfield school, Monday April 4, at 1 p. m. (all children entering this school); Lincoln Heights school, Tuesday April 5, at 1 p. m. (all children entering Terman and Lincoln Heights school); Lexington school, Wednesday April 6, at 1 p. m. (all children entering this school); Ontario school, Friday, April 8, at 1 p. m. all children entering this school).

Trial Date Named

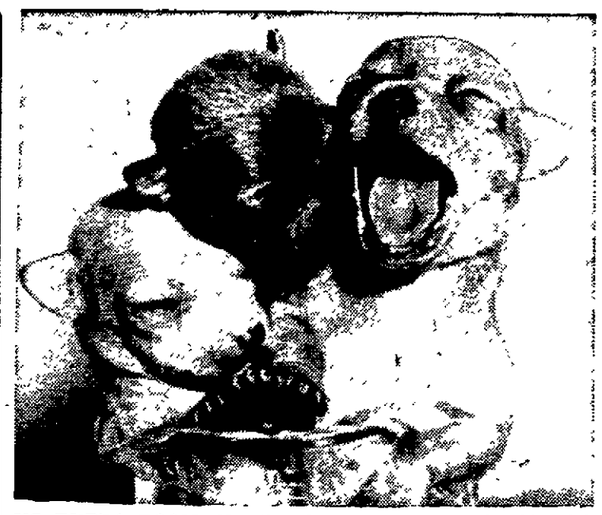
NEWARK — (AP) — Richard D. Lahmon of Newark, will go on trial April 25 on a charge of manslaughter in the fatal shooting last May of Miss Betty Stevens, 18.

Youth Blames Bad Influence

FAIRMONT, W. Va., — (UP) — The bad influence of an ex-convict father was blamed in part today for the predicament of George L. Ashton, 21, Youngstown youth who pleaded guilty to staging a train holdup.

Ashton said in federal court at his arraignment that he and a companion decided to holup the Baltimore and Ohio train at Martinsburg three weeks ago because a dining car steward served them a "bad" drink.

Federal Judge Harry E. Watkins deferred sentence pending a further study of Ashton's record which includes arrests in Columbus and Madison, O., on minor charges, automobile violations, and parole violation.



NO EXTRA ROOM—No, there's no extra room in this eight-ounce measuring cup, but then there are ten ounces of dog squeezing into it. These chihuahua pups, Wynken, Blynken, and Nod, are the offspring of Forever Amber, a California champion.

Slots Seized Aboard Ships

COLUMBUS — (UP) — State liquor inspectors raided two supply ships in Toledo harbor and seized nine slot machines, State Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner has announced.

The raids were made as crews of the "Dewey" and "Kessler II" prepared to put out to sell supplies to freighters anchored in the harbor, Fleckner said.

16 Girl Scouts Given Awards

Second-class badges were presented to 16 members of Girl Scout Troop 44 when a court of awards was held at Roseland school.

Those winning awards were: Carol Chamberlain, Carol Bailey, Jane Elliot, Jean Esbenshade, Betty Dinger, Marlene Gaubatz, Alice and Claudette Inscore, Clarabell Osborne, Evelyn Semon, Mary Schaff, Alice Dinger, Emily Ross, Carol Robinson, Carol and Shirley Raudabaugh.

Home and safety awards were presented to Carol Bailey, Jane Eliot, Jean Esbenshade, Carol Chamberlain, Betty Dinger and Marlene Gaubatz, craft and outdoor cook badge to Luella Jackson; wild plant awards to Carol and Martha Bailey, Jane and Alice Inscore, Marlene Gaubatz, Clarabel Osbun, Carol Robinson, Rosemary Wiegman, Betty Dinger, Emily Ross, Carol and Shirley Raudabaugh.

Following the presentation of awards Miss Margaret Rooney, executive director of the Girl Scouts, talked on taking care of the places where meetings are held and complimented the girls on the work they had done the past year. Miss Rooney also explained the day camp project.

Luncheon was served during the social hour, with Mrs. John Esbenshade in charge. There were 26 Scouts and 16 mothers present.

Farmer's Plumbing Problems Solved By Indiana Company

BREMEN, Ind. — (U.P.) — A manufacturer says he has the perfect answer to the farmer's plumbing problems. It is a factory-built "package" bathroom complete with built-in medicine cabinet.

J. F. Donahue, president of the Builders Manufacturing Co., announced that production has begun on a fully-equipped bathroom unit that can be added to the exterior of any house without sacrificing space or changing the interior arrangement.

It is a weather-tight, permanent installation of frame construction with plywood interior, linoleum floor, copper pipes, brass fittings, electrical wiring, tub, shower, lavatory, toilet, electric heater, medicine cabinet, linen cabinet, towel bar, soap dish, tooth brush and tumbler holder.

All the buyer has to do is build a foundation, provide a doorway or opening from the house to the new bathroom, and make arrangements for electrical, water and soil pipe connections.

It will sell for $1,095 plus an average installation cost of $150.

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

BILLY SOUTHWORTH, manager of the Boston Braves, has a list of "ten commandments of baseball." . . . He has given the list to each of his players but the Stuffer feels that all ball players would profit by following Billy's philosophy . . . Most of them are fundamental—so fundamental, in fact, that ball players sometimes forget them, according to Southworth . . . Here they are:

1—Nobody ever became a ball player by walking after a ball.

2—You will never become a .300 hitter unless you take the bat off your shoulder.

3—Outfielders who throw the ball back of the runner lock the barn after the horse is stolen.

4—Keep your head up and you may not have to hold it down.

5—When you start to slide—slide. He who changes his mind may change a good leg for a broken one.

6—Don't alibi on bad hops, anybody can field the good ones.

7—Always run them out; you never can tell.

8—Don't quit; the game is never over until the last man is out.

9—Don't find too much fault with the umpires because you can't expect them to be as perfect as you are.

10—A pitcher who hasn't control hasn't anything."

Set Hearing On Ring Death

SAN JOSE, Calif., — (AP) — Disputed versions of the thickness of the safety padding in a San Jose boxing ring were given officials today as they scheduled a hearing into the fatal prizefight of young Billy Cornwell.

Cornwell, 25, lightweight champion of Iowa, died yesterday, 12 hours after being knocked out by Pete (Tote) Martinez of San Francisco in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-round main event. Cornwell's head struck the mat after the knockout blow

Dr. Anthony G. Badami, commission doctor, said death persumably was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Police Chief Ray Blackmore, a spectator at the fight, said the ring padding was only about an inch thick, compared with the two inches required by law.

St. John's Quint Takes Loop Lead

Dick Gore led St. John's last night with 14 points.

Paul (Pinky) Ferguson and Norbert Shibinski of Senior high school today were given honorable mention on the annual Associated Press All-Ohio basketball team.

Shibinski, the six-three bespectacled center, and the five-foot-eight-inch Ferguson both won their second basketball letter with the Tygers this year. Shibinski was probably the leading center scorer Mansfield ever had with 296 points. Ferguson scored 194 in 27 games, after having been named All-Ohio quarterback in football.

In the state-wide poll Bill Wilks of Hamilton and Ken Alessi of Yorkville climbed on the throne as the outstanding stars of the season.

Wilks, who paced the big blue to the state championship, ran away with the honors in Class A, while Alessi—greatest scorer the Buckeye realm has ever seen—was the Class B king.

The two luminaries were odds-on choices. Coaches, sports writers and officials from all parts of the state heaped praise on the pair. The heavy support gave each the captaincy of his team.

It was no easy job selecting the state's outstanding cagers this year, as top-flight talent popped up all over Ohio. In response to a request of the Ohio High School Basketball Coaches' Association, announcement of the personnel was delayed until after the state tournaments, but selections were made on the basis of pre-tournament play.

533 NOMINATED

About 700 of the state's head coaches, 60 newspapermen and about 40 officials participated in the huge poll. Of the state's 18,000 high school players, 241 in Class A and 292 in Class B were nominated for all-Ohio berths. The state has 215 Class A teams and 945 in Class B.

With more than 1000 schools in the race, the all-Ohio is more difficult for a player to "make" than is the collegiate all-America. To get even a mention is proof that a player is a standout. To make one of the first three teams is sensational, and to get on the top quintet is far more than a thousand-to-one shot.

Of the 15 players on the first three Class A teams, only two showed their wares in the state tourney—Wilks of Hamilton and Jerry McCloskey of the runner-up Toledo Central Catholic club.

Three of the top 15 in Class B also hit the state meet—Dave Schmelzer of Delphos St. John's champions, Elmer Bolds of Lockland Wayne's all-Negro runner-up squad, and Bill Wallenberg of New Lexington.

Lancaster's Golden Gales were the only aggregation able to place two men among the leading 15 in either class. Tom Plinke, center for the Gales, won a first team job, and high scoring Bill Arledge went in as forward on the second. Rounding out the first team were couple of northeastern Ohioans at guard —Bob Garrett of Canton South and Mark Scarr of Barberton's Magics.

Paired with Alessi at the Class B forwards was Bob Hugh, who hit the hoop for 799 points in 24 games for Scio. Alessi had 1,168 in 33 tilts. Another outstanding scorer, with 720 in 29 games, took the center berth as Jack Baker of Hollansburg moved in. Gary Shaffer of Ottawa Hills and Chuck Ferguson of Plain City at guard round out the Class B top-notchers.

DiMag's Grin Is Back After Playing Six

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (AP) — Joe DiMaggio, the New York Yankees' $90,000 "if", smiles as he peeled off a sock in the clubhouse at Miller Huggins field. The old toothy grin was back.

"I'm afraid I'll play another year. Every blankety blank inning," he said. "It looks like I'll have to work for my money."

Di Mag had just passed his first test with flying colors. The tender right heel that threatened to end his great career gave him no trouble in a six-inning chore against Cincinnati. It was his first start.

"The pain is not completely gone," said Joe, "if it (the heel) improves a little more, I'll be very happy.

"After the first workout (March 1) I thought I'd have to hang up. Now I feel like I could play nine. I would have, too, but Casey Stengel said 'don't overdo it.'

"Not until I get on base will I know for sure that I can do. But I don't expect any reaction. If it holds up, I'll be in good shape."

DiMaggio, the highest priced player in Yankee history at $90,000 per year, underwent an operation for removal of a spur from his right heel during the winter. Although it appeared completely healed, he overdid it in the first day of training.

Widdoes Not Too Worried Over Ohio Grid Prospects

COLUMBUS—(UP)—Carroll Widdoes is not counting on any of the things that made him the nation's 1944 "coach of the year," but the new mentor of Ohio university's football team admitted today that prospects are not "too drab" next fall.

The former Ohio State university head football coach and more recent Buckeye backfield tutor refused to go off the deep end on the Athens situation.

"We don't have too much backfield," he said, "but the overall picture isn't too drab. We're not too heavy either, but the kids have a lot of spirit and we're having a lot of fun."

Widdoes made his comments at a press luncheon here yesterday. It was his first official visit since he took over his new post after three years at Ohio State.

The quiet, balding Widdoes parried a question about how it felt to be head coach again.

"Well, I guess I am the boss, at that," he answered. "But we are not looking at it that way," he continued. "Brink (Howard Brinker, line coach and former Steubenville high school mentor) and I are partners in this thing. Kinda co-coaches, I guess."

The Ohio conference Bob Cats will open the season against West Virginia Sept. 27, a game which worries Widdoes a little.

"That one looks a little rugged. Maybe we'll start counting our season with the second game," he said. The next contest is with western Michigan, Oct. 8.

Best Tankmen In AAU Swim

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — The nation's best male swimmers—including six Olympic champions—opened competition today for the national AAU men's indoor titles.

In addition to almost 200 United States tankmen, a group from Cuba is entered. Officials had expected two from Guatemala but said a delay in that nation's international swimming federation membership made it unlikely they would compete.

All defending champions are on hand except Miller Anderson of Ohio State. He won both diving crowns last year. Bruce Harlan, also of Ohio State, is the favorite to succeed to the titles.

Conn Declares His Fighting Days Are Over

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Billy Conn, the Pittsburgh fighter who once tried unsuccessfully to dethrone heavyweight champion Joe Louis, today declared himself definitely through as a fighter.

The dark-haired steel city slugger told friends her during a visit yesterday he has decided that Jersey Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles, Lee Savold and others can have the field to themselves.

Conn said he was too old to fight anymore, and besides, there is a matter of his oil wells in Oklahoma to occupy his interest now. He was enroute there yesterday when he stopped here.

Conn also has a high regard for his nose which he describes as "too fragile and too good a target." He noted that in his last three fights, one an exhibition against Joe Louis in Chicago just before Christmas, his probiscis took a beating.

There's also the matter of the Rapid Tag and Wire company of Pittsburgh, Conn said. He's vice president of that concern, but he didn't get there the hard way.

"I did not have to fight my way to the top position in this company," he said. "They started me off as vice-president."

N. J., is called a bright heavyweight prospect by Coach Roy Simmons, Syracuse university boxing mentor.
